

Graphic Files Reveal '63 News Highlights

As Newton steps confidently into the New Year of 1964, the staff of The Graphic takes a reflective glance backward to the recorded account of life in this community during the departed year of 1963, as chronicled in news stories in the past year's issues.

Two untimely deaths of prominent men registered with forceful impact on this city.

President John F. Kennedy and Major General and State Senator Michael J. Galvin died in the closing weeks of the year. President Kennedy by an assassin's bullets, General Galvin by illness.

Both were young men of unusual capabilities, dedicated public officials, both war heroes, fathers and family men, and both now rest in Arlington National Cemetery in Virginia.

So, turning back the pages of our news files we find

Horace Mann Bonds Approved

The State Emergency Finance Board has approved a $580,000 bond issue for the Horace Mann School replacement.

The new structure will replace the one swept by fire in December, 1962. It will cost $700,000. Unused school buildings bonds and fire insurance on the old school will pay the remainder of the cost.

these and other highlights of community life in Newton in 1963:

Jan. 3 — As 1963's initial issue of The Graphic went to press, there was every indication that Newton's Board of Aldermen would, at their first meeting of the year, approve a $2,000,000 bond issue to finance construction of a new municipal incinerator on Rumford Ave., Auburndale, near the Waltham city line, thus ending a controversy that had flared periodically for nearly 12 months.

Jan. 10 — Newton's health, civic, school, commercial and industrial leadership gives 100 percent backing to a proposal to provide oral immunization against polio to 50,000 residents of the city.

Jan. 17 — Mayor Donald L. Gibbs orders a step taken toward eminent domain seizure of Rumford Ave. land for the proposed new incinerator. His action was initiated in an effort to unsnarl a complicated legal tangle that developed when the city of Waltham claimed ownership of the proposed site. Plans for construction were rolling smoothly up to that time.

Jan. 24 — Final steps toward rehabilitation of Newton High School is taken by the Aldermen's approval of an appropriation of $20,000 for part payment to an architect for preliminary studies of demolition of the 75-year-old classical building and its replacement.

Jan. 31 — Newton residents and city officials storm a State House public hearing

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Republican Party in State Split By Internal Strife

The Republican party in Massachusetts is split into so many different factions that it is difficult to list them all.

A group of young liberals have launched a drive to draft Henry Cabot Lodge as a candidate for President.

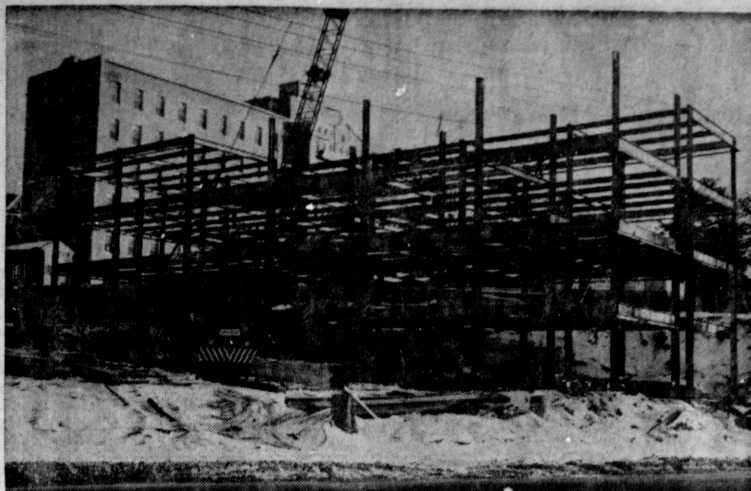

A bigger contingent of older conservatives are cool to the draft-Lodge movement and are standing firm for Barry Goldwater, prepared to fight in his behalf against all comers — even though it's not yet certain the Arizona Senator will enter the Presidential race.

A small element headed by veteran Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., will go down the line for Governor Nelson Rockefeller—if he is still in the contention when the Massachusetts Presidential Primary is held.

A substantial number of Republicans are booming Senator Philip A. Graham for their party's nomination for Governor. Although not yet officially a candidate, Graham has opened headquarters in downtown Boston.

A sizeable wing of the GOP is beating the drums for ex-Governor John A. Volpe, proclaiming him as the

Hospital Building Takes Shape

Girders define the dimensions of new medical building now under construction at Newton-Wellesley Hospital. It is expected to be completed next summer.

Medical Advance In Newton

The shape of things to come is plainly visible at Newton-Wellesley Hospital these days.

Steel girders already outline the frame of the new medical building now under construction on the hospital grounds.

Scheduled to open during the summer of this year,

1964, the air-conditioned, sound-resistant building will furnish office space for about 50 doctors, representing all areas of medical practice.

Hospital authorities state that the million dollar project will pay for itself. Funds borrowed from Newton banks will meet construction expenses, and will be repaid over a 25-year term from rentals charged the building's tenants.

Richard White Sons of Newton are the contractors; the architects are James H. Ritchie and Sons of Boston.

Located along Washington St., on Route 16, it is the first medical office building in Boston's western suburbs to be erected on hospital land, and operated in conjunction with a hospital. A two-story covered passageway will link the hospital and the doctors' building.

Governor In Tribute For Jr. College

In a telegram to Charles W. Dudley, director of Newton Junior College, Governor Endicott Peabody congratulated Mr. Dudley on the accreditation of Newton Junior College and acknowledged the additional distinction that the college is the first public junior college in New England to be accredited.

Governor Peabody stated: "It is with a great deal of pleasure that I extend to you the congratulations of the Commonwealth and my personal best wishes on your recent accreditation."

"That Massachusetts should produce the first public junior college in New England to receive this recognition is fitting and proper. The mantle of scholastic leadership has, many times in the past, fallen to our great Commonwealth, and I am pleased to observe that Newton Junior College is carrying on this tradition with honor."

Files Bill For Charles River Public Rights

Rep. Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., (R) of Newton, has been appointed to the special commission to study the planning and development of the natural resources and protect the watershed resources of existing cities and towns of the Metropolitan Parks district.

"Essentially the problem is to find out to what extent the Commonwealth is willing to plan and finance the conservation of natural resources in the metropolitan area and their development for recreational and other public purposes," Rep. Muther stated.

To make an initial test, the Newton legislator has filed a bill directing the Metropolitan

Top National Award Is Won By Newtonite

Dr. Haiku Hironaka of Brandeis University has been named to share with a Stanford University professor in the $10,000 Research Corporation Award for 1963.

J. William Hinkley, president of the New York foundation, said that the West Newton mathematician will receive the $5000 award this month in New York.

The 1963 award will be presented on January 20th at a dinner honoring Dr. Hironaka and Dr. Paul J. Cohen of Stanford each of whom has recently resolved by highly original means a famous and important problem in mathematics.

Dr. Hironaka, 32, associate professor of mathematics at Brandeis, received his Ph.D. in mathematics at Harvard University in 1960.

He is being recognized for his work which liquidates the classical problem of algebraic geometry on the resolution of singularities of an algebraic manifold, and pointing the way to new progress in an old field.

Dr. Hironaka is a graduate of the University of Kyoto and has conducted research in Japan and the United States.

Last year he pursued his research at the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton. He is married to the former Wakako Kimoto of Japan. They reside at 25 Davis Avenue, West Newton.

Monsignor O'Kane was ordained a priest by the late William Cardinal O'Connell at St. John's Seminary Chapel on January 10, 1914.

Because of the uncertainty of the weather he is planning no celebration of his Golden Jubilee in the priesthood until some time in the spring.

Hoblitzell Is New Brandeis Tennis Coach

William W. Hoblitzell, 42-year-old tennis professional at Sidney Hill Country Club in Newton, has been named to succeed Arthur Collins as head coach of tennis at Brandeis University. Collins, one of the most successful coaches in Brandeis' short athletic history, resigned recently to devote full time to his journalism profession.

The appointment of Hoblitzell was announced by Athletic Director Irving Olin and is effective immediately.

A graduate of Newton High in 1939, Hoblitzell is married and has one son, Woody, 15, who is an outstanding Weston High senior and junior tennis player. A former tennis pro at Brae Burn Country Club, Weston Golf Club and the Dover Recreation Council, he now is president of the Wellesley Indoor Tennis Club.

In 1950, Hoblitzell won the Greater Jacksonville singles championship. A member of the New England Lawn Tennis Association where he is chairman of the junior ranking committee and the junior adult tourney scheduling group, the new Brandeis coach also is a member of the advisory staff at A. # Mayor's Blueprint Revealed For '64

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, in his inaugural address at City Hall yesterday as he began his third term, outlined plans for making Newton a better city, for moving forward with an urban renewal and rehabilitation program, for expanding recreational facilities and for other important undertakings in the two years ahead.

The Mayor announced that he will give this "unequivocal support" to a proposed four-year, $1,300,000 program calling for the construction of indoor and outdoor swimming pools at eight locations throughout the city and the improvement of the beach and bathhouse at Crystal Lake.

DONALD L. GIBBS

This recommendation was made by a citizens' committee headed by Recreation Commissioner T. Frank Copp which has made a study of Newton's lack of swimming facilities and has surveyed what is provided in other cities of comparable size.

Mayor Gibbs told his listeners that the time has arrived to move "the bold, imaginative and vitally needed" community renewal plan "off the drawing board and into reality."

He expressed the hope that this can be done with a minimum expenditure of public funds and a maximum investment of private capital.

The Mayor said that in his judgment the community renewal program should be implemented by the city government as soon as possible, "one priority step at a time, in the long-range interests of our citizens."

In this connection he advocated the creation of a Newton Redevelopment Authority, with power to administer a continuing renewal program, and also proposed that the city's planning department be given full-time status.

Mayor Gibbs emphasized that he recognizes that individual human problems often arise in the path of significant urban change and construction. To meet such problems he recommended that a relocation section be established within the Redevelopment Authority.

Construction of an Annex to Newton City Hall was another of the Mayor's major proposals. He indicated that it may be possible to obtain federal funds to help finance the erection of such a structure if it is designated as a health and welfare building.

Mayor's Complete Address on Page 10

The complete text of the third Inaugural Address delivered by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs will be found on Page 10 in today's Graphic.

He said the present City Hall "has been bursting at the seams" and pointed out that the erection of a City Hall Annex would make it possible to house modern data processing equipment for the city's accounting system.

Establishment of a single code enforcement division in the public buildings department "to centralize responsibility and control of code enforcement in an effective manner, as well as to draft and administer a comprehensive code enforcement schedule," was urged by Mayor Gibbs.

The Mayor called for "a more stringent form of housing code and enforcement procedures" in order "to provide effective minimum standards of safe, decent and sanitary housing."

In discussing the possible future growth and development

Hebrew Teachers Are Honored For Service

Three Hebrew teachers of Temple Emanuel of Newton were honored at a special Teachers' Sabbath Service held recently. Mrs. Isidore Fischer, Mrs. Benjamin Boyer, and Irving Karol, assistant educational director, were accorded special honors for seven or more years of service to the Temple. Mr. Karol delivered an interpretive commentary on the Sidra of the week.

Dr. Albert I. Gordon, Rabbi of Temple Emanuel, in his sermon, emphasized the place of the Hebrew teacher in the Jewish tradition as the one responsible for the molding and shaping of the intellectual and moral character of our children.

Following the service a luncheon in honor of all the teachers was tendered by the Temple and the Parent Teachers Association. Dr. Martin Goldstein, educational director, pointed out the distinctive qualities of the teachers and their educational contributions in the growth and development of the Temple Emanuel Hebrew School.

Clarence N. Jacobson, chairman of the School Committee, speaking in his official capacity and as a parent, thanked the teachers for their efforts and achievement and presented them with tokens of appreciation on behalf of the School Committee, the Temple, and the Parent Teachers Association.

In establishing Teachers' Sabbath, Temple Emanuel is in full accord with the standpoint of the American Association of Jewish Education which states: "The morale of the teacher is a determining factor in the success of a school program. It has a way of communicating itself to the pupils . . . In the fullest sense, a school is its teachers—their dedication, talents, and living personalities. If schooling is indispensable to the future of Jewish life — and who can deny this — then the educator, and his calling, should be accorded recognition and prestige."

Hospitality arrangements were under the direction of Mrs. Summer Carp and the following: Mrs. Ezra Baker, Mrs. Daniel Bloom, Mrs. Carl Fruttkoff, Mrs. William Hecht, Mrs. Daniel Kagno, Mrs. Raphael J. Katz, Mrs. Lewis Lourie, Mrs. David Singer, and Mrs. Julius Thompson.

Joint Meeting Of Hadassah To Be Held Jan. 8

Helen Kittner, director of Hadassah's Seligsberg High School for Girls in Jerusalem, will speak on Wednesday morning, January 8, to a combined meeting of the Newton and Oak Hill Hadassah groups at the Chestnut Hill Country Club.

A coffee hour at 9:45 a.m. will precede the meeting which will also include members of the Deborah, Henrietta Szold and South Brookline groups.

Mrs. Kittner has headed the high school since its establishment by Hadassah in 1942. One of five women in the world to receive a grant from the World Association of University Women, she is now at Columbia University completing work for a PhD in Comprehensive Education.

Hadassah also sponsors with Youth Aliyah the rural vocational center, Neumim, where almost 1000 young people from 43 countries study for a productive future.

According to Mrs. Sidney Yoffe of Newton, Chapter chairman, local contributions to this Hadassah project are made through ads, jewels, in Memoriams and Scholarship pages in the annual Shoppers' Guide book.

A "Hootenanny-Israel Style" will be presented at the meeting by Zev Rejman, an Israeli student at Boston University. Mrs. Arthur Brown, president of the Newton Group and Mrs. Edward C. Hartstone, president of the Oak Hill group will welcome their members.

Center as well as for a comprehensive mental health facility for the entire community is the next objective of the association.

To achieve this, leaders in the community and members of ACTION are pledging themselves to celebrate this holiday season with more memberships as a gift to the troubled children of Newton.

Memberships have been made in remembrance of good friends and in memory of President Kennedy. This continuing season of Good Will Toward Men is indeed an appropriate time to think of disturbed children and their urgent needs.

St. Columbkille Routs Our Lady's

Our Lady's basketballers couldn't do anything to change St. Columbkille's undisputed possession of first place in the Catholic Suburban League Sunday night.

The Brighton Five chalked up its fifth straight victory, downing Our Lady's 74 to 42. St. Columbkille exhibited superiority right from the opening whistle. Jim McLaughlin was the only Newtonite to hit a double figure, scoring 12 points.

Our Lady's is now in fourth place with a 3-2 record for the season.

Dependence On God Is Sunday Lesson Subject

Man's dependence on God will be emphasized at all Christian Science services this Sunday.

Readings from the Bible Lesson on "God" will include this passage from I Chronicles (16:29): "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name." The theme will be taken up in accompanying readings from the Christian Science textbook, including "No wisdom is wise but His wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is Life but the divine; no good is but the good God bestows" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 275).

Plate - Changing Problem

Once again Bay State motorists have struggled through the process of changing registration number plates on the family car, or cars.

The maneuver is forced upon the long-suffering car owners of this Commonwealth at the coldest and stormiest period of the year. The legal time allotted to this task is brief, to say the least, and scant official consideration appears to be given to the matter.

Most states in our union have long since applied some common sense to the situation except good old Massachusetts where the motorist pays through the nose, the pocketbook, the muscles, and disposition, for the august privilege of driving his car along our streets and highways.

Despite state-wide criticism of our plate-changing system and pointed barbs in the public press and over the airways, the old method continues in operation. We have from noon on the 31st to noon on January 1st to make the switch, or face the consequences. This is arbitrary and nonsensical.

At least, our Bay State motorists are assured that the paint on the current plates will stay affixed to the metal this time. This may help eradicate the stigma of the past year when in many states outside Massachusetts, vacationing drivers were alluded to as hailing from "The Rusty Plate State."

Letters To The Editor

Thanks Those Who Helped

The Editor
The Newton Graphic

Dear Sir:
The Newton Citizens' Committee for Dental Health wishes to express its gratitude to all the men and women who volunteered to carry information about fluoridation to their fellow citizens during the recent campaign here.

Ten years from now, those children who have grown up in Newton will have far less dental decay than the children of today. To those who worked so hard, and to those who voted "no" to keep our water fluoridated, we send our thanks.

Very sincerely,
Dorothy D. Smith (Mrs. Stewart), Jack Bloom, D.D.S., Co-chairmen, Newton Citizens' Committee for Dental Health.

On Police and Youth

Editor,
The Newton Graphic,
Dear Sir:

A solution might be found for the security of our police force. The fundamental objective of the policeman on the beat should be to make friends with people in need, actually be in a position as an advisor and organizer, having the capability of doing good deeds, with the co-operation of the entire community supporting him in his efforts.

This kind of an officer would not be feared but would be hailed and respected. It isn't very helpful to say, "Break it up. Break it up."

The officer should be able to direct, especially the youth, to constructive effort. Youth must be given ample opportunity to be gainfully employed. Jobs must be found where skills could be taught on the premises. Our youth must not be, or feel, let down, without hope for a livelihood.

When parents threaten, "The policeman will come and get you," how will these parents be able to say later, "The policeman is your friend." Too many of our youth are paying a price either of an unhappy or broken home. Society must take on their burden by supplying them with a purpose, an ideal, and a goal in life.

Cost to the city would be $2200 per month.

Political Highlights

Republican who would have the best chance of defeating Governor Endicott Peabody next November.

About the only thing the Graham and Volpe camps seem to agree on is that they want no part of each other.

An influential element within the Republican party is quietly mapping plans for a fight in May to oust Frederick C. Dumaine, Jr., from the GOP State Committee chairmanship.

Dumaine admirers, among them a number of Goldwater adherents, will stage a counter-drive to retain him as State Chairman.

Hot contests will be waged in the April Presidential Primary not only for election as delegates to the GOP national convention but also for places on the Republican State Committee and ward and town committees.

If all this sounds as if the Republican party in the Bay State is not exactly one happy political family, that's a pretty accurate appraisal.

Perhaps it may turn out to be a healthy situation. The Democrats for years have beat each other over the heads in conventions and primaries but have managed to win their share of elections.

In the past, however, it has been different with the Republicans who have not shown the same disposition as the Democrats to forget their differences and close ranks after a fight within their party.

One reason so many groups in the Bay State GOP are travelling in different political directions is that there is no strong Republican leader whose decisions are accepted when disputes occur.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall and Attorney General Edward W. Brooke are the top Republican chieftains in Massachusetts.

Both, however, are too absorbed in their own duties to spend the necessary time ironing out all the squabbles which erupt in their party.

Even when they do try to provide the leadership the GOP needs, their counsel is sometimes disregarded, as was the case when Dumaine was elected the GOP State Chairman over Donald W. Whitehead.

How much the Republican friction and strife will hurt GOP chances of recapturing the Governorship or of carrying the State in the Presidential election is something only time will determine.

Sometimes political feuds backfire in unexpected ways. When Henry Cabot Lodge became involved in the bitter Eisenhower-Taft fight at the 1952 GOP national convention, the Taft backers in Massachusetts subsequently supported Eisenhower but vented their displeasure upon Lodge by knocking him and helping to set the stage for his defeat by John F. Kennedy.

Indications at the present time are that the Republicans have at least a fair chance of winning back the Governorship. The GOP prospects in this regard, of course, will be improved or worsened by the way Governor Peabody administers the State's affairs in the coming months.

The Democrats, of course, have plenty of rifts of their own. Peabody faces a fight at next June's Democratic State Convention and again in the September primary before he can gain the right to stand for reelection.

DPW Heads Could Make Roads Safer

It will be interesting to see whether the new public works commissioners selected by Governor Peabody do anything about restricting big trucks to certain lanes on State expressways and highways.

Peabody has talked a great deal about his efforts to achieve greater highway safety, but this is one important area in which he has failed to take action which might save lives and prevent accidents.

On the expressways in New York and many other states the operators of trucks are limited to certain lanes - either the right lane or the two lanes on the right, depending on the width of the highway.

If they stray out of those lanes, they are flagged down by a police officer and given a ticket.

No such regulations are enforced on the expressways in Massachusetts where huge trailer trucks roar along whatever lane the driver happens to choose.

This plan does not seem to impose any hardships on the truck operators in other states, and there is no apparent reason why it should in Massachusetts.

Here is an opportunity for Governor Peabody to demonstrate that he really means some of the things he has been saying about highway safety.

Peabody Breaks His Own Rules

Governor Peabody seems to have an amazing faculty for doing precisely what he says shouldn't be done.

That was the case when he approved a legislative "freeze-in" and then sought to go into court to challenge the validity of an action he could have vetoed with the stroke of a pen.

Now it's true again in the case of the DPW reorganization bill which enabled him to appoint five new public works commissioners and throw out Jack P. Ricciardi.

Peabody argued long and loudly that a Governor should be allowed to put his own men in charge of the public works department.

But he didn't practice what he preached when it came to drafting the bill which enabled him to gain control of the agency and its great patronage power.

The terms of the men Peabody named to run the DPW do not coincide with that of the Governor.

The Governor who succeeds Peabody will not be able to place officials of his choosing in charge of the DPW unless he also lobbies through a reorganization law.

He will be obliged to work with Peabody's appointees until their terms expire, replacing or reappointing one each year.

If he remains in office three years, he will be able to name three of the five public works commissioners.

That isn't exactly the way Peabody himself said things should be.

Perry Hits Peabody On Claim Hands Tied

Former Representative Francis W. Perry makes a pretty convincing case to show that even while Governor Peabody has been crying out for more executive power, he has not effectively utilized the authority he already possesses.

Perry asserts, in effect, that Peabody's periodic complaints that his hands are tied under the present laws and constitutional requirements not only are unwarranted but reflect a lack of understanding on Peabody's part of the power which is vested in the office he holds.

He charged bluntly that Peabody has not been doing the job he could do for the people of Massachusetts within the scope of his existing authority.

The studious, hard-working Perry made his statements in what he termed "A Program for Executive Action and A Commentary on the Power of the Governor of Massachusetts," the purpose of which he explained, was to show that the weaknesses in the Governor's authority have been over-emphasized by Peabody and the strengths under-emphasized.

Perry stressed that he is on record as favoring constitutional and statutory reform, but he said that a Governor should take full advantage of the power he possesses to promote and protect the public interest. He cited specific instances where, he charged, Peabody has failed to do this.

He declared that Peabody "either because of lack of knowledge, lack of imagination, or lack of aggressiveness, has failed the people."

Perry added that since his own allegations contradict Peabody's claims that he lacks sufficient power to develop a "government of quality," he (Perry) would be pleased to debate the issue with the Governor. Peabody's answer should be interesting.

Mayor

ment of the city, the Mayor declared that there are possibilities of potential air rights developments over the toll road which could bring "an incredible renaissance to Newton Corner."

Many of the Mayor's proposals were couched in general terms and will be supplemented by specific recommendations to the Board of Aldermen in the near future.

Supreme Court Justice John V. Spalding, a Newton resident, administered the oath of office to Mayor Gibbs. Justice Spalding has performed a similar function at Mr. Gibbs' two previous inaugurations.

The members of the Board of Aldermen and School Committee were sworn in by Mayor Gibbs in his first official action as he started his third two-year term.

The Rev. Harold R. Pray, Jr., gave the invocation at the simple inaugural ceremonies in the Aldermanic chamber. A reception in the Mayor's office followed the inaugural address.

Mayor Gibbs looked both forward and back as he outlined his plans for the future and reviewed some of his accomplishments of the past four years.

The Mayor announced that he will move ahead swiftly with plans for the construction of a new $2 million municipal incinerator.

He reported that the city's debt has been reduced about $2 million while he has been in office, dropping from $20,273,000 in 1960 to $15,200,000 at the present time, a 25 per cent slash.

Mayor Gibbs termed this "a remarkable accomplishment" and voiced the belief that it is unsurpassed by any city in the country.

Gibbs announced officially that a revaluation of residential property will be put into effect this year. As was reported in last week's Graphic, this will mean revised tax valuations on most Newton homes and increased assessments for a majority of the city's dwellings.

He forecast that between $7 and $10 million will be spent for new school build-

Pike, and Mrs. Harold Gilboard.

Theatre Night Will Aid Rehabilitation

Mrs. Austen Madsen, Newton, president of Hancock Chapter of Eastern Massachusetts Women's American ORT, and Mrs. Arthur Ziskind, Newton, program vice president, announce "Family Night at the Theatre" to be held in the near future at the Meadowbrook Junior High School.

"Let's Travel" an original musical was written and will be directed by Mrs. Harold Katz, of Newton. Hancock Chapter members, their husbands, children, relatives and friends are invited.

ORT, Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training, is a program for rebuilding lives through vocational education. It is the largest non-governmental vocational training agency in the world. 40,000 students are enrolled in 20 countries.

ings in the next 10 years.

The Mayor asserted that the city has been able to work well with Turnpike Authority Chairman William F. Callahan and that things are coming along smoothly.

"The comment that we were handed a lemon and have made lemonade out of it is more valid than ever," he observed.

Mayor Gibbs announced that he has appointed a committee which will make recommendations for steps designed to reduce vandalism in and around public buildings. He said that property defacement has run into many thousands of dollars and that "such willful destruction can and must be avoided."

The Mayor said that while a more equitable salary scale for municipal workers has been put into effect, there are still some vitally important areas "where employee benefits should be broadened to at least approach those offered by private industry." He underscored the need for the adoption of an employee safety program and steps which reduce workmen's compensation injuries, claims "and unnecessary days away from work."

A second proposal called for a revision of the occupational health program as it relates to city employees.

Mayor Gibbs made a brief reference to the fact that the people of Newton declined to raise his pay but went out of their way to give him a big complimentary vote when he was standing unopposed for re-election last November.

The swimming pool program to which the Mayor pledged his all-out support calls for the construction of major indoor-outdoor pools at Newton High School and Newton South High and a major outdoor pool at Albermarle Playground.

Neighborhood pools would be located in Oak Hill Park, Newton Upper Falls, Newton Lower Falls and at the Burr School and Auburndale Playgrounds.

The first projects to be undertaken would be the improvements at Crystal Lake and the construction of the swimming pools at Newton South High School and Albermarle Playground.

League Lead Rides On Arlington Game

Newton High School's hockey team, which has won four straight games in GBI League competition, will face a stiff test when it matches speed and skill with a strong Arlington High team at the Boston Arena at noon on Saturday.

Newton and Arlington are presently tied for the GBI League leadership. The winner in Saturday's encounter will be alone at the top of the standing.

The Tigers won two league games last week, defeating Cambridge Latin 5-1 on Saturday and besting Somerville 8-2 on Thursday.

Sophomore Kevin McLatchy, who has won the starting job as goaltender for Coach Sarge Kinlin's pupils, turned in impressive performances in both games.

Jeff McLaughlin, George Mechem, Dick Valle, Dave Mullare and Dick Toomey scored the five Newton goals against Cambridge Latin.

In the 8-2 victory over Somerville Bob Toomey, George Mechem and Jeff McLaughlin had two goals apiece for the Tigers. Dick Valle and Dick Toomey also scored one each for Newton. Dick Toomey had four assists, including two on his brother's pair of goals.

Both Newton and Arlington are unbeaten in league competition with four victories each. Saturday's game between them will be one of the crucial clashes of the school-boy hockey season.

Text Of 3rd Inaugural Speech By Mayor Gibbs

Following is the complete text of the inaugural address delivered yesterday by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs during the New Year's Day ceremonies at City Hall as he began his third term as the city's chief municipal executive:

Mr. President, Reverend Fay, Mr. Justice Spalding, members of the honorable Board of Aldermen, our School Committee, Fellow Citizens of the City of Newton and friends:

Admonitions about lightning to the contrary, I have been thrice blessed with the distinct honor of being able to stand before you on this inaugural platform as the Chief Magistrate of our fair Garden City.

In the actual ceremonial act, there has been much pleasant repetition—the biennial solemnity of the oath-taking before Justice Spalding, a distinguished jurist and native son, from the equally distinguished highest court in our Commonwealth; the welcome sea of familiar faces of fellow public servants and fellow citizens; the nervous moment or two before the actual program gets underway. We are also deeply grateful for the sincere and inspiring invocation of Reverend Fray.

Yet, since I first mounted this platform, on New Year's Day back in 1960, there have been many changes—physical changes in the City of Newton; recurring and new governmental problems; human equations found rewarding and also, occasionally, wanting; my own maturation process in the Mayor's office while coming to grips with the essential realities of our municipality.

Has it been worth it? I know that it has.

It has been worth it because I have been able to count on the unstinting devotion to duty and cooperation of selfless members of the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee, such as are entering incumbency today. On this formal occasion, may I especially express the city's and my own heartfelt thanks to those retiring members of both vital boards who have labored so hard in our common cause in the past. To returning members and to those entering new posts of challenging and solemn civic responsibility for the first time today, I can only pledge that my door will continue to be open to all of you, that I will endeavor to seek your cooperation in every reasonable way, and that I sincerely look forward to the next two years as a rewarding partnership with our thoughts and actions ever aimed at benefiting our community.

It has been worth it because while most citizens didn't want to raise the Mayor's pay, they went out of their way to indicate, with the complimentary vote, that they had no hard feelings and that they actually wanted to impart a significant pat on the back. The tonic of that kind of democratic reassurance is the most invigorating and satisfying of all, and I am deeply grateful for this solid gesture and not unmindful of my continuing responsibility to earn it in the future.

Newton has always been fortunate in the extraordinary number of contributions which its citizens voluntarily make to charitable drives, churches and temples, worthy social causes, and to good government. The present is no exception and this is why I can face the future with unbounded confidence, and reiterate:

Newton is a wonderful city. I'm proud of it—as are you. We've had a rich background and history.

I've been able to recall and emulate many noteworthy predecessors at City Hall. The tradition is one of good, honest, progressive government.

Of course, we realize that ours is an expanding city, now ninth largest in the Commonwealth; that times change; that Newton, in order to retain its pre-eminence, must stay abreast of these changes and compete in a fluid, unpredictable future.

So premeditatedly, and for the sake of emphasis, the first thing that I will take up today is the future.

Now completed and being evaluated by Federal Housing authorities in New York City is the Community Renewal Program Survey which we embarked upon in September, 1961.

This 18 months' study of a sort never before undertaken by our city, eventually determined that there was a definite need for a comprehensive urban renewal program in six specific locations of the city: Newton Corner, West Newton, Nonantum, Newton Upper Falls, Newton Lower Falls and Newtonville. It was never contemplated that vast areas of Newton would be razed and devastated but it has come up with recommendations for singularly wise, major steps, stressing renovation and rehabilitation, as well as intensive clean-up, which could well save us from blight and future impoverishment. On the plus side, it guarantees solid economic advances in the form of exciting new taxable valuation and restoration of homes and other properties.

Newton was the first city in Massachusetts to petition the housing and home finance agency for this type of survey, which includes Federal Government subsidy of two-thirds of the cost. We were also the first to submit for approval a thorough plan to that agency and, I might add, probably surprised them by expending only two-thirds of the authorized study budget.

Now the moment has arrived to move the bold, imaginative and vitally needed plan off the drawing board and into reality. I am especially hopeful that this can be done with the minimum of public monies expended and the maximum private capital support enlisted.

In my judgment, the entire able report on the Community Renewal Program, prepared with such broad, city-wide vision under the leadership of Charles E. Downe, the city's planning consultant, and James A. Miller, director of planning and renewal, should be implemented by the city government as soon as possible, one priority step at a time, in the long-range interests of our citizens.

To that end, I would like to see the creation of a Newton Redevelopment Authority with power to administer a continuing renewal program.

With this should also come a change to full-time status of the city's planning department, within whose framework and general overall capital requirements, has been fitted all concepts of community renewal. The full-time planning department would logically follow needed and outstanding part-time consultative services which the city has received since 1957. The full-time status could be accomplished at minor cost.

Following a proposed, careful review of all city codes and ordinances, a single code enforcement division, such as is also defined by the community renewal program report, should be established in the public building department to centralize responsibility and control of code enforcement in an effective manner, as well as to draft and administer a comprehensive code enforcement schedule. Certainly, a more stringent form of housing code and enforcement procedures must also be adopted to provide effective minimum standards of safe, decent and sanitary housing.

Let us be ever mindful, as we have been with the toll road, of the individual human problems that often arise in the path of significant urban change and construction so that a relocation section of the redevelopment authority can be established to prepare and implement a careful and considerate relocation plan. An urban renewal advisory committee, as well as interested city and neighborhood groups, should also ultimately undertake the vital task of public communication and promotion of full citizen participation.

Finally, on this subject, it would be most unimaginative if we did not keep in mind—whatever the difficulties and odds, and there are some—the more distant possibilities of potential air rights development over the toll road, a prospect which, for instance, could bring an incredible renaissance to Newton Corner. Feasibility studies should continue here.

Peering again into the immediate future, it has been apparent for some time that the City Hall has been bursting at the seams and that an annex, located adjacent to the present site and not jeopardizing its dignity, is urgently needed. The possibility of designating this annex as a health and welfare building and securing substantial federal assistance is a most promising one and I expect this year to make some definite recommendations for its realization.

Most pertinent to this new structure would be that it would release space in the present City Hall so that we may house modern data processing equipment for our accounting systems. An expert committee, as you know, has surveyed the problem and the feasibility study shows that the installation of modern equipment and methods could be a prime management tool, one that would eliminate many duplicate services and equipment, as well as quicken the pace of the effective administrative process. The firm of Price-Waterhouse in Boston has been evaluating the city's real needs here and their favorable report rendered and approved by the committee will, I anticipate, result in some vigorous action in the future.

In the field of recreation, it has long been my feeling that new programs and facilities for the large and expanding population of Newton are a must. The upgrading and greater utilization of facilities in such major areas as Cold Spring playground is among the targets.

During the month of June, 1963, to move effectively in one major direction, I appointed a citizens advisory committee on swimming facilities, headed by T. Frank Copp as chairman and comprising a leading group of local citizens. By way of background, it might be said that Newton, historically, once had the advantage of numerous natural swimming areas free from pollution. Today, however, this is no longer true and, within corporate limits, we have literally no dependable seasonal or year-round swimming facilities for the general public.

The committee, after important field visitations to such places as Hamden and New Haven, Conn., has designed a long-range, revenue-producing program which can meet the recreational need for swimming facilities for a projected Newton population of 100,000 in conformity with National Recreation Association standards and also accomplish school physical education objectives.

Recommended by the committee are nine facilities, spread throughout the city in schools and playgrounds and including indoor and outdoor pools, which would cost an approximate $1,300,000.

The improvement of the beach and bathhouse at Crystal Lake is included. The entire project could be financed over a period of 4 to 8 years so that the impact upon the city's tax rate would be minimized.

Thus, in the near future, I will give my unequivocal support to these splendid proposals by requesting the funds from surplus or the issuance of municipal bonds as needed to meet the time table involved and to set in motion a sound and financially responsible plan for bringing great recreational pleasure to many of our families in future years.

Another bond issue of tremendous importance to the future well-being of the city is the $2,000,000 one to finance the construction of a new 500 ton municipal incinerator. It is a distinct pleasure to report that this vital question has been resolved, the monies approved. This new incinerator will be a major step forward in our housekeeping operations. I will move with alacrity to construct this facility as quickly as possible.

For our senior citizens, who especially merit consideration in later years from their native city, it has been a source of great pride in this administration that the Newton Housing Authority has been able to begin planning and construction of units of attractive low-cost housing for the elderly on Cook street and Parker street. From 64 and then 33 units, we are now authorized to move to an additional 100. Applications are over-subscribed and most deserving and it is apparent that speedy implementation of the latest construction plans, as well as hardy new objectives in the future, are the order of business.

Mayors of cities with harassing problems—and what municipality today isn't vexed?—often have little to contemplate with serenity. I consider myself very fortunate to be able to report the vast improvement in recent years in the soundness of Newton's financial condition. It is pleasing to note that by careful planning our bonded indebtedness, at a high of $20,273,000 was reduced to $17,209,000 last year. At the end of the calendar year ending yesterday, I anticipated that the total authorized debt of the city would be recorded at $15,200,000—in other words, down 25 percent since 1960. As team operation in the city, this is a remarkable accomplishment.

I don't believe it was surpassed in the nation. It means that the annual service on the large municipal debt is proportionately reduced; it means that growing pressures on our tax rate and increasing living costs are partially offset by prudent fiscal management. For instance, the requirements in the 1963 budget for interest and amortization of bond payments actually dropped by $185,000—equivalent to 60 cents on our tax rate.

Our policy has been—and continues to be—that of paying off more bonds than are issued in any fiscal year. This was done in the face of meeting our civic obligations for the necessary school additions and construction of bonded streets.

Let me not, however, leave such a completely rosy picture. I have indicated many times in the past that the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen, because of enormous fixed costs in spiraling budgets, have increasingly begun to lose control of municipal expenditures. It's not an exaggeration to state that about two-thirds of the 1963 budget—embracing direct school costs, debt requirements, welfare and veterans' services payments, retirement and employee benefits including group insurance and workmen's compensation, abate-

Speech

ments, and state and county assessments—is immutable, beyond the control of any administration, wise and otherwise, to tamper with.

So, although the Mayor and the Board of Assessors were most pleased last June to announce that the 1963 tax rate had been established at $66.60 per thousand valuation, a reduction of 60 cents from the 1962 rate and the first downward trend in a decade, it was obvious that a combination of fortunate circumstances made the big difference; excess net receipts over estimates from the Commonwealth; increased and faster collection of motor vehicle excise taxes, and substantial turnbacks of unexpended budget funds by municipal departments. Such good fortune will not always be ours, although it is too early to prophesy what 1964 will bring.

To put it mildly, the tax rate is a serious matter and, with ascent, imposes reduced living standards on many people, especially the increasing number of senior citizens, who depend on pensions, annuities and savings. It is obvious that essential city services can't and won't stand still and that a general revaluation program, which hasn't taken place since 1958, is coming in 1964. By such a revaluation, I anticipate that we can lower the tax rate by $7.00 tempered by increases evident but not ascertained and thus obtain long-range benefits that will eventually outweigh any temporary hardships. I will have more to say about this in succeeding weeks.

Turning to schools, nothing is more important than the education of our children and their preparation for later life in a very complicated, automation-and-skyward-bound society. There has long been recognition of this fact in Newton for, by far, the largest budgetary expenditure of the city is for our schools. We have also for many years been the proud owner, on all levels of instruction, of one of the finest public school systems in the Commonwealth, if not the nation.

Such recognition and brilliant record must continue although we have now witnessed tremendous increases in school enrollment in the last decade, an investment of over $17,000,000 in new school buildings alone in this same period, and the necessity for increased numbers of teachers, administrative personnel and supplies. Two new elementary schools, additions and renovations to several others and a major renovation of the Newton North High School are on the immediate fiscal horizon while between $7 and $10 million dollars additional expenditures for school buildings can be accurately forecast for the next 10 years.

I am confident that the School Department's projections for the needed educational expansion can be moved forward speedily, on an agreed upon timetable at $1,000,000 capital outlay annually and also be kept within the bounds of our aforementioned policy of limiting the annual increment of the city's bonded debt to manageable proportions. It would also be most helpful if an effective school assistance program could finally be worked out by the state government; thus relieving in some measure our overburdened property tax structure.

The Newton Junior College,

now enrolling 357 full-time and 154 part-time students, has been expanded and updated, and the increased expenditures for this worthy institution have gone far toward earning it accreditation—for our college, it is a very noteworthy accomplishment and one of which we are proud. The school will play an increasingly important role in our city in the years ahead and it is already most significant that, by agreement with Newton Junior College authorities, 85 percent of the places in the student body will be reserved for enrollment of our own Newton residents.

I believe such an agreement can be implemented without compromising academic standards in our one public institution of higher learning or cheating enrollees of the cultural and educational enrichment that a diverse student body affords. It can also go far in Newton toward relieving the enrollment pressures upon collegiate doors that will reach their highest point in American history next fall.

Most relevant to the educational process, both in public schools and for purposes of adult education, is our Newton Free Library system. A re-appraisal of services, plant and staff salaries, financed by action of the Board of Aldermen and also spurred by the Library Trustees and my own office, is now being conducted by professional consultants.

It would be premature to prognosticate what all the major, modernizing recommendations of the consultants will be although construction of a new main library, closing of some others, bookmobiles and other innovations are not beyond the realm of legitimate speculation. At the moment, I would only like to say officially that the very important library survey is being awaited by my office with keen and optimistic expectation and that, when forthcoming, it will be carefully reviewed and swiftly acted upon wherever possible.

Not all of my recommendations and prophecies can be set forth with complete optimism today. Reluctantly, I must admit that Newton, finally, will have to accept and enact a code for, the state pedestrian control act of 1962, which carries out a 1961 Federal Bureau of Public Roads mandate for complete uniformity of traffic control devices on all streets and highways which receive federal aid.

Within five years, I believe that all traffic control signals in Massachusetts — a state which fortunately has a long history of uniform traffic control devices—will be converted to federal standards. At a cost to the municipality of $1,500 per light, one, whatever the merit of the project, can once again come to stark grips with the realization that our cities and towns have long been cut adrift from significant home rule and responsible control of local expenditures.

How true this observation becomes when we contemplate the state government's frequent practice of forcing heavy expenditures upon municipalities without supplying the funds necessary to make the laws effective and without regard to the fact that the local financial base is narrowly confined to property taxes.

Beacon Hill has had a special recess commission on municipal home rule undertake a study of the problem but it is manifest that the desperate question of enlarged state aid for Massachusetts cities and towns is still largely unresolved.

Further major expense is in the offering for the city as we review and move to adopt the recommendations of Wilbur Smith and Associates, consulting engineers, who in 1963, in concert with the Community Renewal Program, updated their original 1958 traffic study of Newton with an eye to relieving the present traffic congestion. Many new factors have intensified the situation in specific locations over the past half a dozen years although previous solutions, with bold and comprehensive implementation, are still applicable today.

New apartments, motels, and retail and industrial developments in and near the city boundaries have come along; so has the turnpike extension, which while removing through traffic from some streets, will actually increase traffic problems along others, especially in the West Newton and Newton Corner interchange areas. Newton is ready now to prosecute fully all feasible plans for traffic circulation solutions and in the months ahead I am sure speedier progress will be much in evidence.

Speaking of the turnpike extension, once enveloped in a cloud of secrecy and uncertainty for this city, as well as a mooted topic in the debate over a freeway, it is only fair to say that at the present time things are going very smoothly. We are agreeable surprised. The city received adequate concessions and has worked well with Mr. Callahan and the Authority, as well as with individual contractors and the comment that we were handed a lemon and have made lemonade out of it is more valid than ever.

The job now, obviously, is to complete construction as swiftly as possible and, hopefully, witness the recouping of new assessed valuations and a brighter future for the city. A public debt of gratitude is undoubtedly due those residents who have been tolerant of bombed out conditions in the northern part of the city. On the debit side again, I must report that I have appointed a committee to study and make recommendations for the reduction and possible prevention of vandalism in and around our public buildings, especially at recreational centers and in the schools. The property defacement has run, astonishingly, into many thousands of dollars. Such willful destruction can and must be avoided and I am confident that sound, efficacious means of tackling the problem will be suggested by the new committee.

It has been a source of great pleasure to me that the City of Newton, during my administration, has been able to complete a professional salary and job content survey for its municipal employees and, what is more, has put into effect a more equitable salary scale for our loyal and diligent city workers. There are still some vitally important areas where employee benefits should be broadened to at least approach those offered by private industry in the state and I have commented about these deficiencies in the past and will continue to do so in the future.

Today, however, I will confine my remarks to underscoring the need for two major improvements: The first is the adoption of an employee safety program, as prescribed by consultant, Bruce Campbell, and the Massachusetts Safety Council, steps that could reduce workmen's compensation injuries, claims, and unnecessary days away from work, and the second is a necessary revision of the occupational health program as it relates to city employees. Physical examinations though required of certain workers should be more thorough and this could probably be done more economically on a contractual basis.

There are other topics that could be proper subjects for lengthy consideration in this third inaugural address. The omission is not to be interpreted as a sign of their lacking importance. Quite the contrary for their very importance in the past may have already insured adequate public ventilation.

For instance, public transportation is still in a precarious state in these parts. While the present M.T.A. formula treats Newton generously, I have grave doubts about some of the recent suggestions that have been advanced—a population basis, for instance—as the foundation for a new formula. The Massachusetts Transportation Commission hasn't produced any extraordinary ideas, regrettably in the face of Newton's daily need—as well as that of other surrounding cities and towns—for decent, rapid transit into the core city of Boston.

There are some austere decisions that can lead to solutions but the latter will only come when a thorough canvassing is made of hard realities and past studies and recommendations, as well as when some courageous, new steps are inaugurated in the City of Boston itself.

Another subject of constant concern to us is that of metropolitan planning. With the emergence of the "New Boston," it is more apparent than ever that neither Boston nor Newton nor any other contiguous neighbor can afford to work and plan alone. The benefits of wider vision and concerted action have long been appreciated by thinking administrators and, increasingly, in the future, we must forget narrow concerns and focus on our common interests, the most relevant research, and the best elucidated legislation that can be presented to the General Court for action. The recently enacted Metropolitan Boston Regional Planning Act should be a tremendous step forward in this area. It is tempting at the conclusion of this address to want to reflect upon the last four years and point, blow-by-blow, with pride to what I consider the many solid accomplishments of this administration. These, of course, would not have been possible without the wholehearted endorsement and direct assistance of fine elected officials, city employees and numerous citizens.

By and large, despite the chaotic world around us, Newton has had successful times. Things have gone well. A rich heritage passed in trust has communicated its inspirational message and led all of us to display the very best that resides in us. I am confident that this outstanding pattern will continue in the future despite the many broad and snowballing municipal problems that I have laid before you today.

I would be remiss, in closing, if I did not also pay tribute once again to the retiring persons in our city government, both elected and appointive, whose faithful performance in the past has meant so much to our general civic well-being. Symbolic of the excellence of the group is Mr. Thomas F. Forde, city purchasing agent, who will retire this month after having installed Newton's first central purchasing department. In my judgment, this was one of the city's wisest innovations and its full, effective exploitation was undoubtedly made possible by the availability of the outstanding services of Mr. Forde. We now wish him and the others every success and continued good health in the years ahead.

Local government is the lifeblood of the American democracy. From its bedrock roots flow the enlightened acts of responsible self-rule which make our U. S. Constitution and its Bill of Rights a viable, invigorating force in the world.

Only a few, short, sad weeks ago, a young patriot from a neighboring township was shot down in cold blood in Texas for a reason so obscure as to defy human understanding. That courageous 35th President of the United States fully understood the significance of our American municipalities in the scheme of things and when, in his own first inaugural address in 1961, he stated that the rights of man "come not from the generosity of the state but from the hand of God," he articulated the basic revolutionary belief of all thinking Americans.

Here people in the city salute their state valiantly to the end that our joint futures will be secure. And the words of the late John Fitzgerald Kennedy become immortal.

May I extend to all of you my heartfelt best wishes for a Pleasant and Prosperous New Year.

Airman Peter J. Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Coleman, 40 Kelvedon road, Waban, a former Newton South High School student, has been reassigned to Amarillo AFB, Texas, for technical training as a U.S. Air Force aircraft maintenance specialist. He completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Texas.

Return To Crime Scene Charged

A Boston man, Robert B. Wilbur, who lives on West Newton St., South End, was held by Judge Henry P. Crowley of Newton District Court in $15,000 for appearance tomorrow (Friday). The charge, two burglaries in 1961, and a return to one of the dwellings last August. The single entry was alleged to have been made at the home of Gertrude Lanman, 95 Suffolk Rd., Chestnut Hill. The second and third, according to the charge, were at the home of Theodore C. Haffenreffer, 46 Suffolk Rd.

Young People Hospitalized By Accidents

The accident ward at Newton-Wellesley Hospital treated five youthful victims of weekend accidents.

Russell Pelligrini, 13, of 12 Waban St., Newton, was treated for a head cut received in a fall.

Richard Viles, 17, of 181 Christina St., Newton Highlands, fell Saturday on railroad tracks at Chestnut and Oak Sts., Newton Upper Falls. He was treated for leg injuries.

The left hand of Paul Diaz, 16, of 66 Ashton Ave., Newton Centre, was fractured at the toboggan slide on Newton Centre playground, Saturday.

On Sunday, a 15-year-old Brookline girl was taken to the hospital for removal of a splinter that entered her leg at the toboggan slide.

Frederick Murphy, 20, of 31 Pennsylvania Ave., Newton Upper Falls, was treated for a cut over the eye suffered in a Sunday hockey game at Crystal Lake.

Approval Sought For 30 New Lots

The Planning Board, acting as a board of survey, will hold public hearings Monday evening, Jan. 13, on three petitions for street approval that would service 30 new house lots.

One is the petition of Anthony P. Umina, 67 James St., Newton, for extension of James St. to accommodate a new lot.

A petition of Saverio Nardelli, 31 Chiltern Rd., off Lagrange St., Newton Centre, seeks a street that would service 11 lots. A petition for a street at the same site was denied in 1954 because of sewer lack. The new street was to be named Warden St. Sewers have since been installed.

Approval will be sought for Edison Drive and Volta Ave., also off Lagrange St., that would service 18 lots.

"Land of Oz" By Children's Theatre Jan. 18

The Boston Children's Theatre will present a special performance of "The Wonderful Land of Oz" at New England Life Hall on Saturday, Jan. 18 at 10:30 a.m. Adding to the fun of this performance will be the appearance of the famed television personality Rex Trailer, with Pablo and the entire Boomtown T.V. gang.

This special performance is being presented in order to set up a reserve fund for the Boston Children's Theatre. Though self-supporting, the theatre as a non-profit enterprise is unable to accumulate funds sufficient to keep it operating in the face of any unforeseen expense or emergency. The proposed reserve fund would provide for any such contingency and will enable the theatre to present a greatly expanded program of theatre activities for the children of the community.

Heading the drive for a Boston Children's Theatre Reserve Fund are: Peter Winslow, chairman, Mrs. Charles F. Hovey, Mrs. William Rand Jr., Mr. Alan Hay, Calvin Hill, John K. Dineen, John W. Putnam, Richard Lyman, Thomas B. Williams, and Philip B. Gates.

For information regarding this special performance write or call the Boston Children's Theatre, 263 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, KENmore 6-3324.

Local Volunteers Give Hospital Yule Service

The work of a hospital must continue through the holiday season, including Christmas Day.

According to information received from the Newton-Wellesley Hospital this week, nearly two dozen residents of Newton worked as volunteers at the hospital on Christmas.

Mike Blumenthal of West Newton and his daughter Diane returned again to serve at the information desk, a service they have contributed for many years.

Volunteers who regularly report on Wednesday, made no exception because of the holidays. Local volunteer holiday workers included, Mrs. Frank Lapp and Miss Patsy Smith of Waban, Miss Jane Gilver of Newtonville and Lois Lubin of Wellesley.

From Auburndale, volunteers included Miss Martha Cossaboom, Miss Sydney Graves, Mrs. Reinhold Carlson and Miss Patricia Trun-stall.

Ten members of the Barabee Chapter of B'nai B'rith served as ward helpers and messengers on Christmas; they were: the Misses Toby Bernstein, West Newton; Judith Branzburg, Linda Caplan, Miriam Finch, Doris Nollman, Ellen Nollman, Ellen Kaplan, Enid Salamoff and Deborah Stone all of Newton; and Hermona Dayag of Newtonville.

Expert Will Speak Here

Nathan Cohn, vice president of technical affairs and a member of the board of directors of Leeds & Northrop Company, Philadelphia, manufacturers of electronic instruments, will address an evening meeting of the Boston section of the Instrument Society of America at the Pillar House, Newton, on Monday, January 6th.

Cohn has made two visits to the Soviet Union within recent years to study that country's industrial progress. He is an internationally recognized authority on the automatic control of electric power generation on interconnected systems and a widely-known speaker on technical subjects.

Final Tribute Paid Monsignor Furlong

Catholic clergymen from all sections of Greater Boston joined with public figures and parishioners of Our Lady Help of the Christians Church in attending funeral services Tuesday for the Rt. Rev. Walter J. Furlong.

$18,000 Will Help Improve Sanding Here

Spurred by the recent hazardous conditions due to unsanded streets in many parts of the city, the Newton Aldermen, at their first regular meeting of the year, Jan. 2, approved an $18,000 appropriation for purchase of additional sanding equipment.

The recommendations approved were those of the mayor and Willard S. Pratt, public works director, for 12 tailgate sanders at $1500 each. The new equipment will give each of the city's three divisions nine sanders, what with the existing supply of nine such sanders and six jet sand spreaders.

The Board approved 20 to 1 an appropriation of $350 for a preliminary plan for Alderman Ernest J. Dietz' proposed municipal golf course in the Cold Spring area. The dissenting vote was that of Harry L. Walen, who declared that part of the land should be acquired for school purposes and that more consideration should be given to development for playground use.

By a vote of 16 to 5, the Board confirmed last month's appropriation of $72,000 as a basis for a $2,000,000 bond issue.

Flaschner Named By Mayor To Area Post

Mayor Gibbs has appointed Alderman Franklin N. Flaschner as Newton's representative on the new Metropolitan Area Planning Council, recently created by the Legislature to get underway some form of Metropolitan planning around the core City of Boston.

Flaschner is especially equipped for the post, as he has become well versed in his home city's planning activities. Now in his fourth aldermanic term, he concerns himself primarily with zoning and planning.

He has served continuously as a member of the Board's Claims and Rules Committee, and is chairman of the comparatively new Committee on City Planning. In the latter capacity he has worked closely with the preparers of Newton's Community Renewal Program report, to which Mayor Gibbs referred in his inaugural address as the basis of the city's effort in urban renewal and conservation.

Mr. Flaschner is active not only in urban rehabilitation, but also in areas of human rehabilitation. He has recent-

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

Peabody's Reelection Hopes Hurt By Blast From Collins

Boston Mayor John F. Collins didn't do Governor Peabody's reelection prospects any good with his hard-hitting inaugural address in which he accused Peabody's administration of failing to live up to its responsibilities to the cities and towns of the Commonwealth.

Collins supported Peabody in 1962 and is generally credited with swinging enough votes to make the difference between victory and defeat for Peabody in an extremely close contest.

That Collins will be out on the firing line for Peabody next autumn is extremely doubtful if the Governor holds to his present plan of sweeping major problems under the rug by referring them to study groups to determine how best they may be solved.

Many persons listening to Collins' sharply worded inaugural speech in Symphony Hall leaped to the erroneous conclusion that the Boston Mayor will be a

CAPT. C. E. WALKER

Capt. Walker Is Honored By Women Police

Capt. Charles E. Walker, scheduled to retire next month after 41 years in the Newton Police Department, was given a testimonial on Tuesday, Jan. 7, at Police Headquarters by the Women's Auxiliary School Patrol.

A presentation was made for the patrol by its president, Mrs. Angelina A. Hennes. Speakers included Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, Chief Philip Purcell and Dr. Charles E. Brown, superintendent of the Newton schools.

The patrol, established in 1950 with 20 women, was the first in the northeast. It now has 44 members who do traffic duty near schools to relieve patrolmen for other duties.

Capt. Walker is a Navy veteran of World War I, and is a past commander of Newton Post 48, American Legion.

The committee on arrangements comprised Mrs. Mary H. Anderson, Mrs. Olympia Pasquarosa, Mrs. Virginia S. King, Mrs. Clara C. Mitchell, Mrs. Barbara H. Gasset, Mrs. Valerie C. Boynton, Mrs. Margaret L. Durban, Mrs. Theresa B. DeStephano, Mrs. Alberta S. Morrison and Mrs. Ruth B. Dunn.

Boston College Liturgical Day Due On Jan. 25

A Liturgical Day, sponsored by the New England Regional Committee of the National Liturgical Conference will be held at Boston College on Saturday, January 25th. Theme of the event will be, "Liturgical Renewal Now."

This day-long meeting is prompted by the desire of the Fathers of the Second Vatican Council "to impart an ever increasing vigor to the Christian life of the faithful" (Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy, para. 1) through a "full conscious, and active participation in liturgical celebrations" (para. 14).

The bishops of the church clearly state that "in the restoration and promotion of the Sacred Liturgy, this full and active participation by all the people is the aim to be considered before all else; for it is the primary and indispensable source from which the true Christian spirit, and therefore the life of the church, must be derived" (para. 14).

The Boston College meeting will strive to implement this pastorally directed decree with workshops for particular parish interests.

In addition to the general sessions with major talks on the Bible, the Church, Christian Holiness, and the recently

Mann School Land May Be Housing Site

Mayor Gibbs is preparing an order for submission to the Board of Aldermen recommending that the site of the former Horace Mann School on Watertown street be sold to the Newton Housing Authority.

If the sale is sanctioned by the Aldermen, the land will be used by the Housing Authority for a development of 72 housing units for elderly persons in modest circumstances.

The Housing Authority has offered to pay $1 a foot for the land. Approximately 120,000 feet would be sold. The old Mann School was destroyed by fire.

State Government Blast By Collins Supported By Gibbs

Newton Mayor Donald L. Gibbs today supported Boston Mayor John F. Collins in the latter's blast against the State government for worsening the problems of the cities and towns instead of helping to solve them.

Gibbs warmly commended Collins for his courage in hitting out at the Governor and Legislature for their failure to meet their responsibilities to the local communities.

The Newton Mayor declared that the Boston Mayor has pointed out and brought into the open "a problem which should be known to everyone."

In effect, Mayor Gibbs joined in the "massive citizens' assault on the minds of our elected State officials" which Mayor Collins called for in his inaugural address.

Gibbs not only backed up Collins but leveled some strong criticism of his own against the Governor and Legislature.

He charged that the State has failed to meet the mass transportation crisis, that it has not fulfilled its obligation to provide tax relief for the local communities, and that it has piled additional expenses upon the cities and towns without furnishing the money to pay the bills.

Mayor Gibbs said the State's finances are in such a chaotic condition that the Commonwealth has not made the payments it has owed for months to Newton and other cities and towns for its share of welfare costs and veterans' assistance.

300 Families Here Receive Christmas Aid

More than 300 Newton families referred for help by schools, health and welfare agencies and departments received either a small gift of money or the equivalent at Christmas time through the Christmas Service Committee, co-sponsored by the Newton Community Council and Newton Federated of Women's Clubs.

This annual Christmas project, conducted in Newton for more than 25 years, obtains funds from the Horace Cousins Industrial Fund, the Perpetual Benevolent Fund, the Salvation Army as well as from numerous organizations and generous individuals.

Newtonite Assigned To Mission By LBJ

Mark Bortman, prominent industrialist who resides at 45 Moreland Ave., Newton Centre, will leave for South America this month as a special representative of President Lyndon B. Johnson for the vital People-to-People and Alliance for Progress program.

Mr. Bortman was in conference with President Johnson in Washington recently when plans for the trip were discussed.

The Mayor declared that "mass transportation is in a mess."

He alleged that the Mass Transportation Commission in particular and the State generally "are fiddling while Rome burns."

Mayor Gibbs expressed the conviction that a report on the need for the extension of rapid transit service made by the late Arthur Coolidge back in 1947 is as valid today as it was 17 years ago.

Gibbs urged the extension of the MTA rapid transit line not only to the South Shore but westward to such communities as Needham and Wellesley.

He agreed with Mayor Collins that the State is not paying its share of the cost of public school education in Newton and other communities.

"That is shown by figures which can't be disputed," Gibbs observed.

Himself a former State Senator before his election as Mayor, Gibbs declared that State officials not only are failing to help the cities and towns but are falling down on their own job.

He said the Legislature is good at voting to spend money but not at raising money to pay the bills.

Mayor Gibbs said he would like to receive some financial help from the State for Newton but that he has not hope or expectation whatever of getting any.

"The State's own financial house is in so chaotic a condition that even if a sales tax were enacted it probably would need all the money to pay its own bills," he remarked.

Gibbs cited a number of examples of additional expenses which have been forced onto local communities by the State government.

He said that Newton this year must assume the inspection of nursing homes and day schools, functions which have been performed by the State in the past.

Churchmen Share Guilt For Greed, Violence Of Today

A galvanic upthrust of re-awakening to the need for a re-evaluation of our roles as clergy and laymen of a great nation and a searching look into the innermost consciences of all of us, is the theme of an unusual release from Andover-Newton Theological School this week.

The statement or "open letter" signed by 32 theologians and clergymen from this area, grew out of a discussion among faculty members at the Newton school following the assassination of President Kennedy.

School officials are eager to receive responses to the statement from the general public. Answers can be sent to the Open Letter on Public Responsibility, Box 53, Newton Centre, Mass.

Violence, greed and the responsibility of each individual citizen for the growth of these national menaces is bluntly discussed. The signers of the letter affirm that as churchmen they feel a heavy responsibility for the state of the nation today.

The signers frankly confess to shortcomings and affirm certain pledges and invitations in the letter as follows:

Missionaries Leave For Duty In Africa

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Magill, career missionaries of the United Church of Christ and residents of Auburndale, left Saturday, January 4th, to continue their service among the Zulu tribes of South Africa.

Dr. Magill is on the staff of the 330-bed McCord Hospital in Durban, South Africa, which was founded in 1909 by a Congregational missionary.

He received much of his medical training at Children's Hospital in Boston. During his year's furlough he has engaged in further study at the Harvard School of Public Health.

He and Mrs. Magill were commissioned career missionaries at First Church, Congregational, in Cambridge in 1957. They began their first term of service in Africa in 1958.

Dr. and Mrs. Magill and their five children have made their furlough residence at the Walker Missionary Home in Auburndale, where the three younger children, all born in Africa, got their first glimpse of the United States.

JFK Memorial Ideas By Church Women

The United Church Women of Newton, at a recent meeting, took a constructive stand and offered some vital suggestions regarding a movement in this city to establish a proper memorial to the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

The ideas of the church women's organization are offered to the Board of Aldermen who recently voted formation of a mayor's committee to study and establish such a memorial to the assassinated President.

The United Church Women defined their viewpoint on a "proper memorial" in a letter to The Graphic this week as follows:

Editor of The Graphic, Dear Sir:

Retired Men's Club Has Grown In Its Four Years

The Retired Men's Club of Newton recently entered its fifth year with 361 members, of which 291 are on the active list.

The club was elected in January of 1960 with eight men attending the initial meeting. New members have been added at every succeeding meeting, and the average attendance for each is now 150.

Protection Of Individual Aim Of Muther Bills

Rep. Lorenz F. Muther Jr., Newton Republican, has filed three bills for consideration by the 1964 Legislature that he describes as assuring "protection for the individual."

One would require registration of all firearms in a person's possession regardless of whether they had been purchased in Massachusetts. Another would allow persons with "unearned" income to take the same medical expense deduction from their income tax as is now allowed to those with "earned" income. The third bill would prevent entry upon property taken by eminent domain by any agency until the taking unit had paid the owner at least three-fourths of the property's value.

Women

Kennedy Boulevard. The Newton women wanted something more than this. Already in countless towns, the governing fathers are considering plans for memorial gardens, fountains, marble benches, bronze plaques and flag poles. The United Church Women want something more than this!

The United Church Women of Newton would like to suggest to the Mayor's Committee when formed that it choose, instead, a living perpetuating memorial so that a continuous stream of young people will not forget his dreams for them. It would like to see a fund established, the interest from which would be spent for a fitting tribute such as:

1. A college scholarship which, if factors of need and ability were equal, would go to a student of a minority race.
2. A fund for the all too meager library of the Newton Junior College for books on Human Rights, World Peace, etc.
3. A graduate fellowship in the field of Human Relations or International Law.
4. A contribution to the proposed Mental Health Clinic for Newton's Children, such a clinic as Lee Harvey Oswald so sorely needed when he was a youngster.

There are undoubtedly other ideas along this line, which would remind citizens of Newton of John F. Kennedy's life, not of his death. We hope that the committee chooses such a memorial. As President Kennedy himself said in Amherst where he was discussing his vision for young people of today, "The need is endless and I am confident that you will respond."

Very sincerely yours,
BARBARA T. COOGAN,
(Mrs. Peter F.)
Chairman Social Relations Committee of the United Church Women of Newton.

IRVING FISHMAN

Fishman Seeks Democratic State Committee Post

Representative Irving Fishman of Newton is seeking election to the Democratic State Committee from the Middlesex and Norfolk senatorial district which takes in five wards of Newton as well as the towns of Dedham, Needham, Wellesley and Weston.

Wards 2, 3, 4, 5 and 8 of Newton are included in the district. They comprise Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale, Newton Upper Falls, Newton Lower Falls, Waban, Newton Highlands and Oak Hill.

Fishman is being supported by COD, Democratic reform group which is seeking to gain control of the Democratic State Committee.

He was elected to the House of Representatives last year from the fifth Middlesex district and was the first Democrat to win a place in the Legislature from that district.

"The place to begin improving the political structure in Massachusetts is at the center of the party organization. That is the State Committee," Fishman declared in accepting the endorsement of COD.

"I hope to become part of a State Committee that will respond to the needs of all our citizens rather than to narrow partisan interests," Fishman asserted.

At the McCord Hospital, Dr. Magill is in charge of the pediatric and tuberculosis wards. One of his chief concerns is the high rate of malnutrition among African children.

According to Dr. Magill, the witch doctor is still in active competition with medical men in South Africa; many patients come to him only after unsuccessful treatment by a witch doctor.

Dr. Magill, 40, was born in China where his father was a YMCA secretary. He attended the Shanghai American School but returned to the United States in 1939 to attend high school in White Plains, N.Y.

After three years army service in Europe in World War II, he continued his

Monsignor Furlong
Persons of all faiths will mourn the death of the Rt. Rev. Walter J. Furlong, who was fatally stricken by a heart attack in the rectory of Our Lady's Church a week ago.

Monsignor Furlong was both an outstanding spiritual leader in his parish and a force for great good in this city.

He gave unstintingly of his time and his energy to help advance civic, community and charitable undertakings.

Monsignor Furlong did much to promote good will and understanding among people of different religious faiths.

He attended the monthly breakfast meetings of the Newton Corner Ministers Association with other religious leaders.

Busy as he was, he found time to serve on the board of directors of the Newton Community Chest and to hold the chairmanship of the Newton Agency Executives Group composed of staff members of city agencies handling health, welfare and recreational matters.

During his pastorate the grammar school and parish center were built at Our Lady's, and they stand as monuments to his memory.

So, too, does the imprint he left upon the city and the goodwill he instilled in the hearts of men.

Indictment Of Our Times
The smug complacency of contemporary America was rudely jolted this week by the release of a blunt indictment of our times from the Andover-Newton Theological School in Newton.

A discussion among the faculty of the noted school, following the assassination of President Kennedy, gave birth to the unusual epistle, titled, "Violence, Greed and the Public Responsibility." News-wise the statement is published elsewhere in today's Graphic. The soul-searching impact of the message and its vital need in our day calls for editorial congratulations.

Thirty-two theologians and clergymen signed the statement or "open letter" in which harsh criticism is extended to clergy and laity alike for a variety of shortcomings.

Signers of the letter feel deeply about the brutal killing of President Kennedy and deem it insufficient to dismiss the tragedy as the work of a crackpot. They affirm that nothing, less than a re-evaluation of our social ideals and practices are demanded, and that for most of us, this would necessarily entail a great deal of self-searching.

The fat cats among us, purring over their bowls of prosperity immune to those around them who live a life with a much less enjoyable pattern, had their tails stepped on by the letter.

The emphasis on violence by the printed word and picture, and over television and on the stage and screen, the mad rush for the accumulation of worldly goods, and the callous disregard for our less favored contemporaries, are attacked in the statement.

We are urged to examine the values which encourage the exploitation of this violence and greed and to look deeply into our own natures to learn the extent to which we accept and live by these values.

Penology, mental health and care, civil rights and world peace are all discussed in the statement.

Officials at the theological school ask for public response to the letter to ascertain how widespread is any feeling consistent with those expressed in the letter. They also request specific proposals for projects and legislation, and other means of carrying out their concerns.

Good Will In Quiet Fashion
It may come as a surprise to some residents of this community, but 300 Newton families were recipients of assistance at the recent Christmas time in order to enhance their enjoyment of the usually joyous season.

The Christmas fund, sponsored by the Newton Community Council and the Newton Federation of Women's Club, provided assistance to those families recommended by local civic, social and religious agencies as being in need of such help.

In operation for a quarter of a century, the fund gets financial aid for its work from Newton organizations, churches, temples, and high school students.

It is another fine example of good deeds being done quietly and sincerely without fanfare in the true sense of helping one another.

The following names were omitted from the Beals House honor roll of Newton High School: Mary-Eliza McDaniel, Diane McEvoy, Ruth Morse, Wilma Pennington, Harlan Polishook. Would you please include these names in the next issue.

About Swimming Pools
To the Editor
Newton Graphic
An Open Letter to Mayor Gibbs and the Board of Aldermen:
It is with mixed emotions that many of us have read the plans of the city of Newton for building eight swimming pools at a cost of over a million dollars.

While one can readily appreciate the need of additional recreational facilities in underprivileged sections of the city, some of the areas outlined hardly come under this category and leave me to believe that the taxpayer's money is not being wisely spent. It would appear that a maximum of three or four pools in those sections of the city where they are most needed during the summer, would be sufficient. The funds thus saved could be much more wisely utilized in a project which would benefit all sections of the city regardless of social, economic, religious or racial background.

I refer particularly to the support of a mental health clinic in Newton, which the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has seen fit to co-sponsor, provided local support is given. The appropriation of a mere $25,000 from the city can now get Newton started in taking care of its mentally disturbed citizens. The opportunity is now for us to take advantage of the fine professional talent available to us and vote the necessary funds for this civic necessity.

How in clear conscience can a city be willing to appropriate large funds for many swimming pools yet deny funds for this essential matter, which has been called the nation's number one health problem.

Sincerely,
Janice Daniels
(Mrs. Donald L.)

Harold B. Sparr Enters State Committee Race

Harold B. Sparr, well known Needham resident, this week entered the battle for election to the Democratic State Committee from the Norfolk and Middlesex senatorial district which comprises Wards 2, 3, 4, 5 and 8 of Newton and the towns of Needham, Dedham, Wellesley and Weston.

Corresponding Secretary for the Needham Democratic Town Committee, Sparr was chairman of the committee's first fund-raising barbecue which proved to be a successful endeavor. He has been an active campaigner for Democratic candidates at the State and local levels.

Active in civic affairs, Sparr has served as an officer of several organizations and has participated in the Boy Scout program as a troop committeeman.

At a meeting of his campaign workers, he expressed the opinion that the principal purpose of the Democratic State Committee should be to create a cohesive party organization capable of exerting political leadership in keeping with the needs of the Commonwealth.

Starr said that if he is elected to the State Committee he will maintain constant contact with ward and town committees, elected Democratic officials and other interested party members.

Newton coordinators in Starr's campaign include Charles Gordon of 8 Jenison street, for Ward 2; Richard H. Steinberg of 473 Crafts road for Ward 3; Jerome N. Michaels of 53 E. Quibeguin road for Ward 4; Seymour Smoller of 21 Larchmont avenue for Ward 5 and Mrs. Sumner Stroyman of 432 Dedham street for Ward 8.

Political Highlights
candidate for Governor next fall and that he was firing his opening campaign broadside at Peabody.

Collins will not be a candidate for the Governorship or any other office this year. He intends to serve three-fourths of his four-year term. His big move will come in 1966.

What Collins obviously was trying to do was to prod Peabody into doing something immediately about some of the important matters which the Governor declared in his annual message to the Legislature should be given further study.

Whether Peabody will revise his own plans and chart a new course as a result of Collins' blast is a topic of widespread conjecture in political quarters.

Peabody appeared to be in deep and somber meditation as he sat on the platform of Symphony Hall and listened to Collins' criticism. He might well have been pondering his own dilemma.

If he moves swiftly to try to do some of the things Collins demanded, it will be obvious that the Boston Mayor verbally whiplashed him into action.

If Peabody holds firm to the course he outlined last week in his annual message, Collins is very likely to sit on his hands when the chips are down in next autumn's election campaign.

Peabody is in an awkward position, indeed. He also is confronted with some of the hard facts of political life. In his inaugural address just about a year ago, when he was citing the need for providing financial relief for the cities and towns, Peabody declared that there had been enough talk and study and that the time had arrived for action.

A year later, Peabody called for a statesmanlike approach to the problem of the cities and towns and then advocated that a commission be appointed to study and report next Dec. 1, at which time, of course, the 1964 election will be history.

To report that Collins is disenchanted with the idea of any more studies on this subject is one of the understatements of the New Year.

For all practical purposes, however, Peabody can't give Collins what the Boston Mayor most wants from him. That is financial help which would enable the Hub and other cities and towns to lower their tax rate.

Peabody will be depending on gimmicks to raise the additional revenue which the State needs to pay its own bills. He'll be lucky if he weathers the year, and he certainly will have nothing left over for the local communities.

There really are only two methods by which the State can get the money to provide tax relief for the cities and towns. One is through a big increase in the State income tax. Peabody proposed such a hike last year. His recommendation was doomed to rejection from the moment he advanced it. It met so much opposition that in the end even Peabody didn't make any real fight for his own proposal.

The other is through a sales tax which the State eventually will be forced to adopt in order to cover its own expenses as well as help out the cities and towns.

No sales tax will be enacted this year, however, with the Governor and members of the Legislature all thinking in terms of the coming election.

Even if Peabody were to ask for a sales tax this year, he would not get it. One of the things Peabody presumably must decide is whether it would do him more harm to advocate a sales tax this year or not to recommend one. He probably can't win either way.

If he doesn't at least try to do something, he'll be open to the charge of sidetracking everything until after the election.

Collins is entirely right when he declares that Peabody should move promptly to meet the transportation crisis in Metropolitan Boston. This is a problem which is crying out for action.

But because of the sharp differences of public opinion as to what should be done it is a sticky problem to tackle in an election year.

The Republicans undoubtedly-lighted reason, and human compassion.

"We confess that while violence has been planned and committed by some, dramatized and glorified by many more, we have frequently failed to protest or to be concerned."

"We confess that we have shared in the accumulation of goods and in the urge to inordinate possessions and profits which many have come to equate with Americanism, until it has seemed imprudent or wasteful to encourage public funds for education, conservation, housing, mental health and medical care."

"We confess that we have sometimes put the welfare of our religious institutions before concern for persons and the public welfare."

"Pledges and Invitations—We believe it important for Christians to examine the values implicit in our culture, particularly those which elevate violence and the accumulation of goods. We believe that Christians should thoughtfully examine themselves to learn the extent to which they accept and live by these values. We urge Christians to undertake specific efforts, privately and publicly, to renew the civic qualities of personal concern, self-restraint, wise use of goods, and patient involvement in complex public affairs."

"Immediate Control of Violence. We call attention to the urgent need for measures to reduce the forms of violence which now infect our public life: the open sale of firearms, the mounting automobile accident rate, the emphasis upon gangsterism and killing on television, and the reluctance to face the social and moral implications of capital punishment. We believe that means exist to exert control in these matters without restricting proper exercise of individual freedom. We urge appropriate study and action toward reducing these characteristics in our society."

"Penology and Mental Health. We pledge ourselves and urge others to support a large-scale effort at the expansion and improvement of penology and mental health measures. We urge the investment of greater funds and the recruiting of more manpower to give personal attention to the weak members of our society, thereby preventing many of the tragedies we regularly lament after they happen."

"Civil Rights and World Peace. We further recognize the intimate relation between domestic welfare and international welfare. We urge full civil rights for all citizens of the United States and we endorse unrelenting efforts to end the reign of violence and greed among nations by controlled disarmament and a strengthened human community under law."

"We believe that by seeking to correct our frequent neglect of public responsibility we may best honor the memory, not only of our late President, but of all those who have given themselves courageously in life and in death for the public welfare. We believe that to act in this temper is to manifest the Spirit of Jesus in our time and place."

"We are conscious of the enormity of the tasks and of the limits of our knowledge and wisdom. We invite responses from our fellow-Christians. In particular we request suggestions as to how we and they may best carry out the spirit of these confessions and pledges in meaningful detail."

Name General Chairman Of Easter Seal Campaign

Robert M. Jenney, president of Jenney Manufacturing Company, has been named general chairman of the 1964 statewide Easter Seal campaign of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped.

Paul Sonnabend, vice president of Hotel Corporation of America and society president, made the announcement.

The annual appeal which will be held from March 1 through Easter, March 29, is the chief source of support of the society's rehabilitation services for the crippled of all ages. Last year the society helped 1,525 physically disabled persons in the state to overcome their handicaps. This was an increase of 154 persons served over the previous year.

"Here and across the country," Jenney said in accepting the chairmanship, "the Easter Seal Society has been a pioneer in rehabilitation to bring full and productive lives to our crippled children and adults. Every community in the Commonwealth and in the nation has felt the impact of this humanitarian work. I am proud to join in this battle against crippling as Easter Seal chairman for Massachusetts."

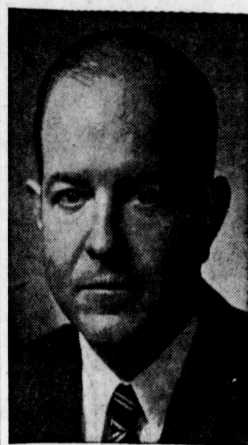

Jenney, who heads America's oldest oil company, is chairman of the New England Chapter of the Young Presidents' Organization; commissioner and vice chairman of the Greater Boston Stadium Authority; director of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the Chamber's transportation committee; director of the National Shawmut Bank of Boston and the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Boston. He is an overseer of the Boys' Clubs of Boston, Inc., and a member of the general committee, division of marketing of the American Petroleum Institute.

In 1961 Boston College School of Business Administration presented the first Michael J. Ahern Award to Jenney for his outstanding contribution in the field of mass communication on issues of great public importance to the Boston metropolitan area.

The following year the New England Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America bestowed on him the "Lamp of Knowledge Award."

All Aliens Must Register In January

The Federal Government requires all non-citizens, including immigrants and non-immigrants regardless of their age or present status, who are in the United States on Jan. 1, 1964 to obtain, complete and return Form 1-53, Annual Alien Address Report.

To Observe Council Of Churches Jan. 19

Hundreds of Protestant churches throughout the Bay State will observe "Council of Churches Sunday" in services on January 19 it was announced today.

The day has been set aside as one for special recognition of the 89 local church councils across the Commonwealth, by the 1800 church, 11 denomination Massachusetts Council of Churches.

The purpose of the observance is "to emphasize the obligations and benefits of inter-church cooperation," according to MCC General Secretary, the Rev. Dr. Forrest L. Knapp.

State church leaders and Protestant pastors alike will stress ecumenicity in their sermons for Protestant Sunday services on that date.

January 19th is appropriately selected since it comes at the beginning of a major ecumenical event, The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, sponsored by the World Council of Churches.

at any U.S. Post Office or Immigration and Naturalization Service Office during business hours before Jan. 31.

Report cards should not be mailed, but should be returned to the post office or immigration office.

Gov. Peabody requested all citizens, employees and officers of the Commonwealth to assist and encourage every alien to report during the month.

Severe penalties, including deportation, are provided for failure to comply with this Federal statutory requirement.

Northeast Regional Commissioner J. Leo Bagley, U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, invited all immigrant resident aliens, eligible for naturalization, to apply for citizenship during the coming year.

Open House for Freshmen At Xaverian Brothers High

Brother Marcellus, CFX, principal of Xaverian Brothers High School, of Westwood, announces that an "Open House" for freshmen of 1964 will be held on Sunday, Jan. 19 from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. Members of the Xaverian Student Council and the National Junior Honor Society will act as guides for a tour of the High School.

An entrance examination will be given on Saturday, Feb. 1, starting at 9 a.m. This exam will last a little longer than two hours. All 8th grade boys from any school are eligible to try this examination.

Application blanks are available from Brother Marcellus, CFX. These should be returned before Jan. 25. This entering class of 1964 will be the second such class. Xaverian Brothers High School, a Catholic regional college preparatory high school, will add one class level each year as it approaches the four year class level pattern of a senior high school.

The freshman course will include Religion, and P.T., English, modern algebra, economic geography, BSCS biology, music. A choice must be made to select one language from among Latin, French or German. Students with a previous knowledge of a language, any of these languages, will be placed in a class that begins this study at the point of departure in the 8th grade. Math students will be similarly placed.

Speaking of the Math Students, those who are able and inclined to do so, will be permitted over the four years to study courses in vectors and matrices, computer programming probability and statistics and the advanced placement course in calculus.

The sophomore class of 1964-65 will pursue a course of studies that will include Religion, English, World History, PSSC Physics, Modern Geometry, Foreign Languages, Art, Physical Education and Typing. Latin and French now in progress, will continue through the four years. A sophomore not now taking a modern foreign language may elect either Russian, or Spanish or German as his modern foreign language choice for a required three-year sequence.

YCS, Young Christian Student group, the computer program group, the Great Books group, the debating team, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts exhibits program, the French and Latin Clubs, the biology club, the radio club, the political literacy series group, the newspaper, the sports and physical education program continue to roll along as most important co-curricular activities.

The Xaverian Parents Council with its first social event, the annual whist party, given this year on Dec. 6, has set up its calendar and is now functioning very well. This most helpful group will become a right-hand to the administration," says Brother Marcellus.

City Sealer Sets Tests For Scales And Measures

All persons or firms who use weighing or measuring devices commercially in the city of Newton have until Friday, January 17, to have them tested in City Hall at the office of the Sealer of Weights and Measures.

Sealer J. Ellis Brown has notified the public that the scales or measures must be tested, adjusted and sealed or, if found defective, condemned, daily except Saturday and Sunday between the hours of 8:30 and 9:30 a.m.

In pointing out the importance to the community of local weights and measures administration and enforcement with relation to scale and meter accuracy, Sealer Bowen reports that he is not only concerned with the weighing devices of the butcher and grocer, but also the scales of the apothecary, junk dealer, express company, candy store, hardware store and laundry as well as all gasoline vending pump meters, grease meters, fuel oil delivery truck meters and linear measures from yard sticks to taxi meters, not only to insure accuracy for the benefit of consumers, but for the benefit of vendors as well.

With reference to small inaccuracies that may seem inconsequential, Sealer Bowen said, "A weighing error of one ounce per pound for 100 weighings a day causes a loss of 64 pounds. Multiplied by 300 days in a year of a commodity priced at $1.00 a pound, the resultant loss is $1,875.00. If a scale be fast, the loss is that of consumers. If the scale be slow, such loss falls upon the merchant. That's important money for a little ounce error, but it happens all along in the marketplace."

CP Volunteers March Jan. 12

Peter Harrington of 15 Crosby Rd., Chestnut Hill, Newton campaign chairman for United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Boston, Inc., urged all who have volunteered for the 53-minute march to carry out their assignments on Sunday, Jan. 12, when their neighbors will be called on to share in the services and therapy program to help victims of the affliction.

Gibbs

Within the next five years, Gibbs added, Newton must install "Walk" and "Don't Walk" signals at all pedestrian-controlled traffic lights in the city. He estimated that will cost between $100,000 and $150,000.

"When you add together all the expenses which the State forces on us, it amounts to a very substantial figure," Gibbs stated.

"I'm with Mayor Collins 100 per cent. I endorse what he said, and I'm joining in the fight," Mayor Gibbs concluded.

S. S. Clarifies Claims, Benefits About Disability

Q. Is it true that a disabled worker cannot qualify for monthly benefits until he has been disabled six months?

A. Yes. A worker must be disabled for six full consecutive calendar months before he can become entitled to benefits. This is called the 6-months waiting period. If the worker qualifies, his first check will be issued for the 7th month. However, the disabled worker should check with his social security office before the end of the first 6 months of disability.

Q. Please settle an argument: my father says you have to be 50 years old before you can draw social security disability benefits, but I say you can get them any time. Which one of us is right?

A. You are correct; since 1960, anyone totally and permanently disabled, and qualified for social security, can receive disability benefits. However, when he reaches 65, his disability benefits will be converted into an old-age benefit, even though he may still be disabled.

Q. On June 13, 1962, I became totally disabled due to a serious accident. I have been unable to leave home since then. Is it too late to make an application for social security disability benefits?

A. No. Get in touch with your social security office immediately. In your case, each month that goes by before you file a claim could mean loss of benefits. An application for disability benefits is good for no more than 18 months before you file your claim. The 6-months waiting period must be deducted from the 18 months. Therefore, if you are entitled to disability insurance benefits, your monthly checks may go back no more than 12 months before the month in which you file a claim.

Q. How long must I have worked under social security to be eligible for disability benefits?

A. You must have worked under social security for at least 5 years during the 10 year period ending with the date you became disabled.

Q. How disabled must I be to be eligible for disability benefits?

A. You do not have to be completely helpless. However, you must have a disability so severe that it keeps you from being able to do any substantial gainful work. It also must be a condition which will show up in medical examinations and tests. Also, the disability must be a physical or mental condition that is expected to continue indefinitely.

"Great Decisions" Sets 8-Week Series For 1964

"Great Decisions, 1964," an eight-week series of discussions on United States foreign policy by informal groups of neighbors and friends, will be sponsored in Newton again this year by the World Affairs Council of Newton, according to Mrs. Anton R. Fried, president. The 1964 chairman for "Great Decisions" is Mrs. Stanley T. Johnson.

The program will begin in the week of February 9, and will be coordinated as in past years with Channel 2 television's "Great Decisions" series featuring panels of experts on the area of each week's discussion.

Topics for 1964 will depart from the usual format and emphasize ideology in their presentation. The informational material prepared by the Foreign Policy Association has been incorporated into a single, attractive book, which will provide an important addition to a personal library. They may be obtained through Mrs. Johnson or Mrs. Fried, or the World Affairs Council office in Boston, at a nominal cost. Other locations will be announced later.

Subjects which have been prepared for consideration are as follows: Week of February 9 — "World Communism Today — How Great the Danger?"; February 16 — "France and the West — Will Atlantic Unity Survive?"; February 23 — "Egypt and the Middle East — What Prospects for Stability?"; March 1 — "Disarmament — Alternative to the Balance of Terror?"; March 8 — "Castro's Cuba — Challenge to the Americas?"; March 15 — "Indonesia — Guided or Misguided Democracy?"; March 22 — "Foreign Aid — How Long? How Much? For What?"; March 29 — "Ideological Warfare — Who's Winning?"

Special articles, features, and programs on these topics will be carried in your local newspaper, TV and radio during the period of the series.

The purpose of "Great Decisions" is to assist citizens to gain in-depth information and understanding about United States foreign policy, not only through the research contained in the study kit and the up-to-date expert opinions brought in each week through the communications media, but also by means of discussion with neighbors and friends in group sessions each week. The opinions thus formulated either by individuals or by the group may then be sent in to the Foreign Policy Association to be tabulated and relayed to government officials for their instruction.

Mrs. Johnson urges all persons and organization chairmen who have led or participated in groups in past years to begin now to gather them together to resume their studies the second week in February. Such groups may be formulated by anyone who wishes to call a few interested people to meet for this purpose. Information and assistance may be obtained by calling Mrs. Johnson at LA 7-8327 or Mrs. John W. Locke at DE 2-5686.

Junior College Convocation To Be Held Jan. 14

Newton Junior College will hold an All-College Convocation at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday morning, Jan. 14 at the Newton High School Auditorium. Robert C. Vose Jr., of Vose Galleries in Boston will speak on "Collecting Paintings, An Exciting Treasure Hunt."

Mr. Vose, a native Bostonian, became associated with the Vose Galleries immediately after his graduation from Harvard where he studied the history of Fine Arts. During the past thirty years, he has travelled extensively, seeking paintings, appraising estates, and placing pictures in private collections and Museums.

Almost all the important Museums in this country include former Vose paintings in their permanent collections, and some single Museums have more than fifty Vose pictures.

In addition to appraising all the paintings owned by three Museums in the last few months, Mr. Vose has arranged many exhibitions for Museums in Palm Beach, Houston, Dallas, and other large cities.

He will discuss the choice of paintings for the beginning collector, and will illustrate his talk with slides. The public is cordially invited to attend this Convocation.

Our Lady's Pastor Assumes New Duties

The Rev. Francis X. Quinn, pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Boston's West End for the past 22 years, plans to assume his new duties as pastor of Our Lady Help of Christians Church before the end of this week.

Father Quinn told the Graphic he expects to say one of the Masses at Our Lady's on Sunday and make his first appearance before his new parishioners. He said he did not yet know which Mass he will celebrate.

He was named by Cardinal Cushing to succeed the Rt. Rev. Walter J. Furlong, late pastor of Our Lady's, who died suddenly of a heart attack on Jan. 2.

St. Joseph's parish over which Father Quinn has presided for more than a decade was a large one during most of the years of his pastorate.

But its parishioners have dwindled as a result of the Charles River redevelopment project which wiped out a sizeable segment of the West End.

pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Father Quinn also has served for 22 years as chaplain of the Charles Street Jail and from 1942 to 1951 was chaplain of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Before becoming pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Father

Dad of First 1964 Baby On Korean Duty

Newton's first baby of 1964 was born to Captain and Mrs. Jerry Scott of 458 Winchester st., Newton Highlands.

This has been determined after careful checks by members of the Graphic staff.

As a result the Scotts will receive a number of gifts and prizes from Newton merchants.

A baby daughter was born to the Scotts at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital on New Year's Day.

Captain Scott has yet to see his baby daughter. He is stationed with our military forces in Korea. He is not scheduled to return home until next August. He has been in Korea since last July.

The baby, incidentally, is to be named Pamela.

Mrs. Scott is presently making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Hinshaw, in Newton Highlands.

She accompanied her husband when he was stationed in Germany but came home to have her baby in Newton after he was transferred to Korea. It is the first child for the couple.

Sponsors of the baby contest and the prizes Mrs. Scott will receive are as follows:

Stop & Shop, Inc., 200 Boylston St., Route 9, Chestnut Hill—five dollars worth of baby foods.

Smith and Meirick Juvenile Furniture, 200 Boylston St., Route 9, Chestnut Hill—Judy Majestic Towel Set.

Storm Costs City $70,000, Leaves 1 Dead and 4 Injured

This week's big blizzard caused one death in Newton, cost the city an estimated $70,000 for plowing and snow-removal operations and created hazardous conditions which resulted in skidding accident and injuries to at least four persons.

A victim of the storm was James A. Downing, 64, of 82 Bullough pk., Newtonville, who suffered a fatal heart attack while operating a snow-blower at 6:30 Monday night. He was rushed to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital but was pronounced dead on arrival there.

Four other persons injured in falls during or after the storm were taken by police to the hospital. They were:

Police Charge 4 Teen-Agers With Robbery

Newton police have arrested four teen-age youths, including two juveniles, as a result of an investigation following a number of crimes, including an armed robbery in a dwelling.

The arrests followed two weeks of intensive investigation by Patrolman George D. Sullivan, part of it made on his own time.

Sullivan has been tracking down leads in connection with five housebreaks and a number of car thefts.

Arrested as a result of his investigation were Dante P. Cassiani, 17, of 633 Saw Mill pkwy., Oak Hill; Gregori E. Schultz, 17, of 123 Spiers rd., Oak Hill; and two Newton Centre youths, aged 15 and 16.

Because of their ages, the names of the 15 and 16-year-old boys are not made public.

Cassiani pleaded innocent in Newton district court to a charge of robbery while masked in the home of Robert Fleischer, 212 Parker st., Newton Centre. He was held in $10,000 bail on that charge and on five counts of break-

Seek Permit For 200-Room Motor Hotel

Building Commissioner Vincent D. Burns has received an application for a permit to construct a 200-room motor hotel at 399 Grove St., Newton Lower Falls, the site of the Riverside Sand and Gravel plant.

Cost of the structure is listed at $1,736,410. Permission to build the foundation was granted pending final approval of the cite plan.

To be called the Riverside Inn, the motel's owner is listed as Eastern States Motor Hotel Corporation, 39 Bridge St., Watertown.

The Riverside MTA terminal is on the northern boundary of the site, and Route 128 runs along the south and west boundaries.

The Rev. Paul Guy Pitman was installed minister of Newton Highlands Congregational Church Sunday evening in the church sanctuary with Dr. Albert J. Penner, president of the Massachusetts Congregational Christian Conference, delivering the installation sermon.

Rev. Pitman assumed pastoral duties in the local church last summer, but was officially installed Sunday as the ninth pastor of the church. He resides with his wife and four children at 39 Forest St., Newton Highlands. Following the services an informal reception was held in the church parlors.

The call to worship, invocation and the Lord's Prayer were given by the Rev. John M. Balcom, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands. Others participating in the service were the Rev. Fred Goodsell, D.D., who gave the report of the Ecclesiastical Council of the Suffolk West Association; the Rev. Matt Mees of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Newport, R. I., scripture reading; the Rev. Lewis L. Gilbert, D.D., secretary of Board of Supply of United Church of Christ, charge to the minister; the Rev. Frank M. Weiskel, minister, First Church in Newton, charge to the congregation.

One of the more serious skidding accidents involved a bus and an automobile which collided at Crafts st. and Lowell ave., Newtonville, early Tuesday morning.

In addition to the $70,000 the city spent for plowing and snow-removal work, Newton householders dug into their pockets for thousands of dollars to have their driveways and sidewalks cleared.

Thirty-four parked automobiles which hampered plowing operations were towed away on orders of police. Their owners face $10 fines.

Close to 100 other cars were tagged during and immediately after the storm. In most complete with intensifier, cine and television components, comprises the new diagnostic weapon at the local hospital.

Funds to purchase the machine were provided by residents of Newton, a foundation, and the projects sponsored by the members of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association.

Hospital officials inspected the equipment following the recent annual meeting.

Newly-elected trustees Franklin P. Jerome of Waban, and John W. Scott of Weston, with George L. White, of Newton, president of the hospital, heard a comprehensive explanation of the operation of the diagnostic and fluoroscope instrument, by William S. Brines, of Wellesley, hospital director.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

Peabody Failed To Redeem His 1962 Campaign Pledge

Boston Mayor John F. Collins has a legitimate complaint against Governor Endicott Peabody. That is that Peabody has not kept the pledge he made in his 1962 campaign to provide additional revenue to help ease the tax plight of the cities and towns of the Commonwealth.

Collins did not spell that out in his now famous inaugural address. He may have refrained from doing so in order that his speech would not be construed as a direct assault upon Peabody.

But it probably influenced his thinking and served to shape some of the things he said.

The verbal exchange between Collins and Senate President John E. Powers actually constitute a separate clash from the Peabody-Collins split.

There is no question but that Powers has tried to help Boston. The Senate president can point to an impressive list of things he has done or tried to do for his home city. He has spearheaded numerous fights for the passage of measures beneficial to Boston. He has succeeded in getting bills through the Senate which subsequently were killed in the House.

Mayor Names Architect For Burr School

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs announced this week that Charles H. Cole 2nd, of Lexington, had been named architect to design the new Burr Elementary School. It will be built in the vicinity of the former Pine St. dump in West Newton.

Mr. Cole, designer of a number of schools in communities near Newton, was selected by the mayor on recommendation of the Citizens Public Building Advisory Committee.

Contracts for another school, a new Horace Mann facility to replace the one destroyed by fire in December, 1962, were signed by Mayor Gibbs.

The award went to the lowest bidder, Carderilli Construction Company of Waltham, whose figure was $590,162. The architects are William Hoskins Brown Associates.

Biologist Busy On $37,000 U.S. Grant

The succulent crab, long enjoyed by millions of people the world over as a tasty appetizer or entree, has a new function as far as a Newton biologist is concerned — research.

Dr. Frank A. Belamarich, of Newtonville, a biology professor at Boston University's College of Liberal Arts, is studying the nerves of crabs under a $37,000 three year grant given him by the U. S. Public Health Service.

The grant bears the official and formidable title of "Peptides of Crustacean Neurosecretory Organs." Its purpose: to discover what the hormones of crabs are made of as a possible aid in heart research.

Dr. Belamarich points out that the knowledge gained in this research may be a help in man's search for more information about himself, and it may prove advantages to heart research presently being conducted.

Mill Cove Lobster Pound in Booth Harbor, Maine, supplies the Newton biologist with the crab nerves for his work.

The Pound purchases the crabs from local Maine fishermen and keeps them alive in lobster cars until they can be dissected. Dissection takes place by employees of the Pound when they are not busy picking out lobster and crab meat.

Arrangements are underway for the annual Newton testimonial awards banquet to be held Feb. 11 when the Jaycees will announce their selection and make their presentation to Newton's outstanding young man of 1963.

This year's affair will mark the 10th time the Newton Jaycees have conferred such an award.

Officials Welcome New Store Owners

Barron's Department Store Now Under New Ownership

Barron's, Inc., of West Newton, long-time family apparel store, has been purchased by George J. Huberman, former Boston department store executive. Announcement of the sale was made this week by Archibald G. Barron, who has headed the firm since 1929. His father established the business in 1923.

Mr. Huberman, a Newton resident for many years, has had more than 30 years of buying and fashion merchandising experience with downtown Boston stores. He intends to continue the Barron policy of carrying only the finest quality merchandise, which has earned an enviable reputation for the firm.

Associated with Mr. Huberman, who is president of the new corporation, Barron's, Inc., is Herman J. Chilton, treasurer and director. Mr. Chilton was formerly with Chilton Greeting Cards, and is the present owner of American Stationery Company of Peru, Indiana.

Mr. Huberman pointed out this week that the biggest expansion planned will be in the women's wear departments. His wife, Ruth, who at one time was a fashion coordinator at Filene's, will take a prominent part in this program.

The three-story building contains over 14,000 square feet of selling space devoted to wearing apparel for infants, children, boys, girls, women, men, and a family shoe department. Service departments include a dry cleaning shop, women's dress making and alterations shop, watch repair and jewelry shop. An additional 20,000 square feet are available in the building for future expansion.

Mr. Barron will continue to have an interest in the new operation since he maintains ownership in the building and land. The new corporation has taken a long lease on the property. He plans to devote his instances the owners were first-offenders who will escape with a warning.

By yesterday the city had freed itself of the grip of the paralyzing storm which dumped 10 inches of snow onto Newton.

The problem of keeping streets open to travel Monday afternoon and night and early Tuesday morning was aggravated by the high winds which whipped the snow into drifts several feet high.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs expressed gratification with the job done by the city's forces in coping with the blizzard but indicated that it probably will be necessary for him to replenish his snow-removal budget to be prepared for future storms and possibly even to pay the bills incurred this week.

The Mayor said he may have to call a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen to seek an emergency appropriation if the expense of the big blizzard exceeds the amount of money available.

"But until all the bills are tallied up I won't know," the Mayor added.

He explained that he has only limited funds for snow-removal purposes since the budget for 1964 has not yet been approved.

In its fight to keep abreast of the wind-driven storm, the city's street department used 70 of its own vehicles and hired another 75 trucks.

By 7 o'clock Tuesday morning all streets in the city had been plowed. The crews then went to work on widening and mopping-up operations. Snow-removal work was started yesterday.

Public Works Director Willard L. Pratt supervised the tremendous snow-plowing task.

Starting at 8 a.m. Tuesday morning, 27 sidewalk plows cleared the approaches to schools and public buildings.

All public and parochial schools in the city as well as the Newton Junior College were closed on Tuesday. Elementary schools were closed at noon on Monday and reopened again yesterday morning.

Teen-age boys reaped a financial harvest from the jobs they obtained shoveling driveways and sidewalks.

blowers were the envy of their neighbors who became backweary from shovelling the fluffy white stuff.

Police were called upon to perform a number of unusual chores during the storm. One of them was to drive an Oak Hill man, who could not get his car out, to an all-night drug store in Brookline at 2:20 Tuesday morning so he could get a prescription filled in an emergency.

Police Chief Philip Purcell said the number of automobile accidents was remarkably low in view of the driving conditions Monday afternoon and night. He attributed the excellent highway record in the city to the fact that many persons left their cars at home and to the caution exercised by those who were forced to drive.

Rep. Muther Sees Much Good In Three Pending Measures

Three bills up for the Legislature's consideration this term could lead to solution of three major problems in the opinion of Newton Rep. Lorenz F. Muther, Jr.

One is aimed at reduction of school drop-outs. Another calls for a study of military spending in Massachusetts. The third would require legislators to suggest ways to finance projects which are subjects of bills they file.

"Combined work and study programs are one promising method of reducing the long-term ill effects of school drop outs," said Rep. Muther. "This week the bill I filed with Rep. Francis Hatch of Beverly is being heard. It would help the State Department of Education set up an initiating and supervisory office to coordinate our educational efforts in this field."

"The Federal Reserve Bank's December 'Business Review' notes that 'over one half of Massachusetts' durable goods employment is concentrated in industries . . . highly dependent on expenditures for defense and space exploration,'" Rep. Muther continued. "So with Reps. Irving Fishman of Newton and Paul C. Menton of Watertown, I consider Professor Summer Rosen's bill to establish a military spending study and conversion commission in the Department of Commerce a most important first step for this state to take."

"Legislative committees too often, in my opinion, report favorably on bills without any estimate of the cost of the program recommended," Rep. Muther said. "This week, my refiled bill to require 'Fiscal notes' attached to all favorably reported bills costing or raising money is being heard."

There will be a buffet dinner served to members and spouses, the staff and invited guests. It is being coordinated by Mrs. Edward Wagenknecht and Mrs. Edward C. Uehlein of the Board of Directors.

Guest speaker at the dinner will be Arthur Davis, associate of the RIG Division of United Community Services, who will explain the relationship of his division to the Newton Community Center and to centers in general.

Dr. Charles Brown (1958), Giles Mosher, Jr., (1959), Morton Tufts (1959), Joseph A. Gattuso (1961), and Herbert A. Abramson (1962).

Judges who will make this year's selection, as customary, will be distinguished and well known Newton citizens. They will not be members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Choice of the Judges is now being made by a special Jaycee committee. Their names will be announced later.

Peter F. Harrington, Jr., chairman of the special Jaycee committee on arrangements, stressed that nominees who will be considered by the judging panel will be those submitted by Newton citizens.

"We invite and urge everyone to participate in this worthy project by nominating a young man they feel is deserving of consideration for designation as Newton's outstanding young man of the year," Harrington declared.

He said the only requirements are that the young men nominated must be between the age of 21 and 35 and must reside or work in Newton.

Nominating blanks for the award may be obtained by phoning DE 2-3339 during the day or evening.

Some progress was made last year by adopting this principle in restricted form to the House and Senate Ways and Means Committees. The nerve tissues of the crabs are removed and immediately placed in dry ice for shipment to Dr. Belamarich at Boston University.

To date, the doctor has received his initial batch of crab nerves, approximately 6,500. In his laboratory at the University's Biological Sciences Center on the Charles River campus, the hormones are extracted from the nerves, which weigh 1/4000th of an ounce each, and their structure and activity are examined.

"Actually, nerves from 6,500 crabs are not as many as it may sound," says Dr. Belamarich. "We could use 100,000 crabs since only a small portion of the nerve itself constitutes the hormone."

Dr. Belamarich, a native of Newark, N.J., received his A.B. degree (cum laude) from Montclair State College and his A.M. and Ph.D. from Harvard University. It was while at Harvard that he first became interested in crab hormone research. Prior to coming to Boston University in February of 1963, he was a postdoctorate fellow at the University of Buffalo.

He is the author of several articles.

Absurd Liquor Price Law

It's unfortunate that the officials of the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission don't show the same zeal in stopping the sale of liquor to minors that they do in preventing an adult from saving 50 cents or a dollar when he's buying a bottle of liquor

One of the truly ridiculous laws on the statute books in Massachusetts prohibits package store owners from cutting prices on their products below a specified level and provides that they may be closed down if they do so.

This absurd regulation is in effect in a Commonwealth where there is a great deal of pious talk about protecting the consumer.

What this does is protect the consumer from saving a dollar in his favorite package store, and it protects certain liquor store owners from free competition.

Legislators who voted to put this law on the books will tell you with a straight face that they did so to prevent price wars among liquor stores.

It really is a terrible crime, of course, if a package store operator offers a bottle of whiskey for sale at a price 75 cents or a dollar below that of a competitor.

That's why public funds are spent for the employment of ABC investigators to make sure such dreadful things don't happen.

Proper Memorial Idea

Local opinion will be most favorable to suggestions offered by the United Church Women of Newton to a Mayor's Committee, when formed, which would study and establish a fitting memorial in this city to our late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

It is the feeling of the Church Women's organization that any memorial should perpetuate the ideals of the assassinated Chief Executive and should follow in the direction he had been leading this nation in education, human rights and peace.

A living, perpetuating memorial is suggested by the women, with a fund to be established which could be utilized in a variety of ways.

Through such a memorial a continuing stream of our young people would not forget the late President's dreams for them, as stated in the letter sent to this newspaper by the Church Women.

The great national shrines and memorials already dedicated to John Fitzgerald Kennedy are commensurate with the man's impact on history. In communities like Newton, the perpetuating, living memorial is fitting and proper.

It would keep green the memory of President Kennedy in the best way possible, and would establish the kind of tribute that the intellectual late President himself would be most inclined to favor.

Certainly the thoughts advanced by the United Church Women must be placed in the constructive and eminently sensible category to be considered in the future by the Mayor's Committee.

Music Theatre Signing Kiddies For Play Roles

The sixth production of the Children's Music Theatre at Newton Y.M.C.A. is soon to get under way for the spring performance.

Registrations are now being accepted for the Primary Company, made up of boys and girls 5½ through 8 years of age, and rehearsals will begin on Tuesday Jan. 21, at 2:30 p.m. The Intermediate Company for youngsters 9 through 14 years will start rehearsals on Saturday, Jan. 25, at 10:00 a.m.

Previous experience in acting, music or choreography is not a prerequisite to joining either group since predirection in small groups in each phase of training is accomplished by the staff.

Besides encouragement in the development of each individual's talents, poise, self confidence and creativity come as natural outgrowths of this type of group participation along with real pleasures of the dramatic arts.

The director, Mrs. Hilda Moses of Newton, also a teacher in the Brookline School system, has had vast experience in this activity in Cleveland and Toledo, Ohio, and also in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The choreographer is John Duane, who has a dance studio in Boston, while Mrs. Fred Wolff of Brookline guides the music. For further information, call the Newton Y.M.C.A. at BI 4-6050.

Newton Man On Duty In Canal Zone

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Churchill of 21 Herrick Rd. Newton Centre are hoping for word that their son Lt. Col. Louis J. Churchill is safe and sound despite the riots in Panama.

He is public affairs officer for the U.S. Air Force Command assigned to the Canal Zone.

The only news of any kind his parents have had about him since the rioting began was from their son's sister-in-law Mrs. Standish Smith of Fairhaven.

A short-wave radio enthusiast Mrs. Smith picked up her brother-in-law's voice as he was broadcasting from a plane over Panama. He was telling the natives that the United States was not the aggressor, Mrs. Smith told Mr. and Mrs. Churchill and he was speaking both in English and Spanish.

With him in the Canal Zone are his wife and two children John J., 16, and Victoria, 14, students at the American high school there. The lieutenant colonel was graduated from the Sacred Heart High School, Newton in 1939 and left the University of Maryland a month after Pearl Harbor to join the Air Force.

Russia Talk For World Affairs Council Group

Mrs. Harold Berman, recently returned from a year's stay in Russia, where her husband was engaged in research, will describe "Our Year in Moscow" at the meeting of the World Affairs Council of Newton, to be held in the home of Mrs. Anton R. Fried, president, 15 Bonad road, West Newton, Thursday evening, Jan. 23, at 8 o'clock.

The children attended school there during the Berman's stay. Mrs. Berman, who speaks Russian fluently, is a graduate of Smith College.

She taught for a year in Greece, and at the Northfield School for Girls for two years. The World Affairs Council announces that study kits for the Great Decisions program for 1964 will be available after Jan. 20 in the Star Market in Chestnut Hill and in Newtonville, as well as in the Langley Book Store in Newton Centre. Anyone interested in participating in this eight weeks series of discussions on U. S. Foreign Policy, which is to begin in the week of Feb. 9, may obtain information from Mrs. Stanley T. ## Quiet Firemen Given Praise Newton's firefighters were lauded for their quiet efficiency in the following letter from William V. Tripp Jr., 110 Middlesex road, Chestnut Hill, to Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr.: "On a recent Saturday night we had a chimney fire at our home.

"Within a short time after my call, the fire department arrived with so little noise that none of the neighbors knew anything about the excitement.

"All the men were very polite, and with a combination of rubber matting and mops, no damage was done with the exception of the mantelpiece being discolored and the furniture covered with a light film.

"We are most grateful to your department for the wonderful, prompt treatment which we received."

Incinerator Out On Busy Day

The old incinerator in Newton Highlands broke down last week, it was reported, just as city officials were taking steps preliminary to construction of the new facility in West Newton.

A one-day shutdown resulted when a motor burned out, and it was on the day of a double collection of rubbish, made necessary by the fact that there was no collection New Year's Day.

Temple Emanuel Setting for Kaplan - Angoff Wedding

The marriage of Miss Amy Lee Angoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Angoff of Newton Centre, to Martin G. Kaplan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Kaplan of New Haven, Ct., took place here recently at Temple Emanuel.

Rabbi Albert I. Gordon and Cantor Gabriel Hochberg officiated at the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the temple hall.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a semi-bell full-length gown of ivory peau de soie. The fitted bodice had a bateau neckline and long sleeves. The wateau chapel-length train, appliqued with Alencon lace, was caught to the waistline with a becoming bow. She carried her Bible with gardenias, miniature carnations and ivy.

Honor maids for their sister were Miss Carol Angoff and Miss Sally Angoff, both of Newton Centre.

Jeffrey Kaplan of New Haven, Ct., served as best man for his brother.

Both the bride and groom are members of the graduating class at the University of Connecticut. The bride, who is majoring in speech and hearing therapy, is a member of Alpha Epsilon Phi. Mr. Kaplan, a member of Tau Epsilon Phi and a political science major, plans to attend law school in the fall.

Following a honeymoon in upstate New York, the couple are now making their home at the Hunting Lodge Apartments in Storrs, Ct.

Political Highlights

Basically, the Collins-Powers exchange occurred when Powers came to the defense of Peabody even though Peabody didn't put up a very stout defense for himself.

Aside from any feeling still left from their 1959 mayoralty battle, Collins and Powers differ sharply on the sales tax issue. Collins favors a sales tax. Powers is against one and, for that matter, is opposed to any new taxes.

However, the Boston Mayor's quarrel is actually with Peabody, not with Powers, even though that fact has been somewhat obscured in the furor which followed Collins' inaugural speech.

Here is the background which may explain why Collins obviously has become disenchanted with Peabody.

When he was campaigning for the Governorship in the autumn of 1962, Peabody repeatedly stressed that the State should provide additional funds for the cities and towns.

By implication, at least, Peabody criticized ex-Governor Volpe for failing to meet his responsibility in this respect and indicated that he would do what Volpe had failed to do.

Collins, who presumably expected Peabody would do what he said he would, supported Peabody and worked hard to help achieve his election.

Without the help Collins gave him, Peabody would not have defeated Volpe. He won election by only a little more than 5000 votes. Collins certainly was responsible for swinging a larger number to him.

He advocated a whopping increase in the State income tax. Only a couple of months earlier in the State election the people of Massachusetts by a margin of 5-1 had rejected a proposed graduated State income tax which Peabody favored.

In view of the vote on the graduated income tax issue, it was obvious that Peabody's recommendation for a big hike in the State income tax levy was doomed from the time he outlined it.

To many Beacon Hill observers it seemed that Peabody was just going through the motions of keeping his pledge that he would seek to help the cities and towns.

Peabody's income tax measures died a quiet death in the Legislature. Neither he nor his agents made any real fight for it.

The Governor now asserts that he tried to rally city and town officials behind his income tax bill but that they didn't respond to his call.

That is true. One obvious reason they didn't, however, was that they knew they would be engaging in a hopeless fight.

When his bill to boost the State income tax was dropped down the legislative drain, Peabody apparently felt that he had done his part to help out the cities and towns.

A good many city and town officials, including Collins, obviously believed he had let them down.

Whether Peabody could have managed the passage of a sales tax last year is uncertain. But he would have had a much better chance of obtaining a sales tax than of gaining approval of his plan for revamping the State income tax levy.

One thing about Collins is that he has never been afraid to stand up and advocate a sales tax.

Many politicians consider the sales tax some kind of bugaboo which would spell disaster for them if they voted for it.

There is substantial evidence that Collins is right in feeling that he loses no support by urging a sales tax.

The sales tax was a clearcut issue in the 1959 mayoralty fight which Collins won.

Ex-Governor Foster Furcolo made his biggest drive for a sales tax in 1957 and then was overwhelmingly reelected in 1958. Legislators who supported the sales tax in '57 did not find that vote an effective issue against them when they stood for reelection.

That, of course, doesn't mean any sales tax will be approved this year.

Legislative Pay Raise Now Seen As Hot Issue

If the recent special election, held in the Allston area to fill a vacant seat in the House of Representatives, was really a straw in the political winds, it would foretell Democratic disaster and a Republican sweep next November.

However, the upset victory Republican Charles W. Long won over Democrat Peter J. Cloherty in a normally Democratic ward probably did not reflect any political trend whatever.

A number of local factors contributed to Long's triumph and Cloherty's defeat. The organization backing Long did a much better job of getting out the vote than did Cloherty's supporters. Long's win can be attributed at least partly to old-fashioned hard work.

What may be most significant about the result of that special election, however, is the fact that the $2600-a-year raise the legislators voted themselves last year was the overriding issue in the fight between Long and Cloherty.

Long hammered again and again at the legislative salary increase in his bid for public support.

While Cloherty was not a member of the Legislature when the $2600 hike was approved, he did defend and endorse it in his campaign. That stand is considered by political experts to have cost Cloherty many votes.

Whether the pundits are right or not, it is now virtually certain that candidates running against legislators next fall will follow Long's pattern and seek to capitalize on that issue. That prospect is causing considerable concern on Beacon Hill.

Crime Board Probes High Public Figure

The Golden Dome will all but blow off the State House if an indictment is returned next month against a high State official whom the Crime Commission has been investigating.

Several well known public figures are under indictment as a result of the sweeping probe conducted for more than a year by the crime board.

None of them, however, is as politically prominent as the office-holder on whom the Crime investigators have been painstakingly checking.

It is understood from extremely reliable sources that a vast amount of information assembled by the crime board will be presented to the special Grand Jury which convenes a week from next Monday.

Indictments will be sought against a number of public figures of varying degrees of prominence and against some individuals and companies which have done business with State agencies.

It would not be surprising if the Grand Jury session lasts most or all of February.

Depots Listed For Surplus Food, Clothes
 Newton branch of the Boston Friends of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee started its food and clothing drive this week and will continue its appeal to the end of January. The food and clothing collected will be shipped to disenfranchised and dispossessed sharecroppers in the state of Mississippi.
 Local churches, synagogues and individuals' homes will offer depots where articles of clothing and food supplies may be left. Those unable to visit the depots may have the articles picked up at their homes.
 A spokesman for the Newton branch said that Mississippi Negroes have been systematically penalized and intimidated because they have tried to register to vote. Sharecroppers have been fired from their jobs, cut off surplus food rolls, and earn only $500 a year.
 "We urge church members, civic groups and all Newton residents to contribute food and clothing and financial aid to make democracy a reality in the Mississippi Delta," the group spokesman related this week.

Newell Club Meeting
 A musical program will feature the Newell Club meeting Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Eliot Church parlor, 474 Center St., Newton.

Club Women Have Time For Good Works, Federation President Says

A special guest at the club's President's Day, Mrs. Wood is the first state president of the 12th district.

Explaining that bad conditions, such as corruption in government and slaughter on the highways, can be overcome if everyone takes time to combat them, Mrs. Wood went on to stress the potential influence of the State Federation, which has over 4,000 members.

"In our Federation there is something for every single person," declared Mrs. Wood, pointing out that there are many opportunities for personal growth in club work.

Each spoke briefly in her official capacity.

The business session followed a dessert-and-social hour and reception. After adjournment, Mrs. Philip R. Cook, program chairman, introduced Barbara Warren Shure, well-known lecturer on the drama, who gave her "Theatrelogues," reviews of current Broadway plays.

Newton Junior College Five Splits 2 Games

Newton Junior College's basketball team now has a 3-6 record, having divided two games last week, romping to a 70-35 victory over Massachusetts College of Art, and dropping a close one to New Hampshire College of Accounting, 64-62.

Bob Levin's lay-up making the score 12-10 gave Newton a lead they did not relinquish. Newton led 30-15 at half-time, and with 12 minutes and 45 seconds remaining in the game, Coach Leo Judge cleared his bench. The substitutes increased the lead to over 30 points. In seven minutes the second team scored 24 points, while holding Massachusetts Art to a meager 6 points. Vinny Lanza scored 9 points and Ted Fleuler hooped 6 points for Newton.

Steve McQueen's pop from the key provided New Hampshire College of Accounting and Commerce the difference, thus beating Newton Junior College 64-62, at the Newton High School gym. Newton led at the half by 3 points, 32-29, but New Hampshire roared back to take a 10-point lead with five minutes left in the game. Vinny Lanza started hitting from the corner to edge Newton back into the game, but the rally fell short.

Senate Seat Fight Looms Hot, Bitter

A bitter battle is shaping up for the seat in the State Senate left vacant by the death of the late Senator Michael J. Galvin of Newton.

A special election to fill Galvin's place has been set for March 24. The primary to nominate the Democratic and Republican candidates will be held on March 3.

Because the returns in the special election will be analyzed by experts for the political trends they reflect, both the Democratic and Republican parties will go all out to achieve a victory.

The fight will be waged in a marginal district which could go either Republican or Democratic.

The senatorial district includes Wards 1, 6 and 7 of Newton, the entire Town of

Rep. Cohen Is Candidate For Galvin's Seat

Beryl W. Cohen of Brookline announced today that he will be candidate for the vacancy in the State Senate created by the death of the late Senator Michael J. Galvin of Newton.

Cohen will seek the Democratic nomination in the primary to be held March 3. If victorious then, he will stand against the Republican nominee in the March 24 election.

Wards 1, 6 and 7 of Newton are included in the district in which the special senatorial election will be held.

Cohen, a 29-year-old attorney, is serving his second term in the House of Representatives. He was only the second Democrat ever elected to the House from Brookline.

He has served as a member of the joint legislative committee on legal affairs, the committee on constitutional law, and the committee of harbors and public land and was elected clerk of the constitutional law committee.

Since assuming office as a legislator he also has been

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT
Special Grand Jury Session Will Hear Crime Board Data

Explosive developments are expected during the sitting of a special Suffolk County Grand Jury which starts next Monday.

Not only will evidence assembled by the State Crime Commission during the past several months be placed before the Grand Jury, but the results of independent investigations conducted by members of Attorney General Edward W. Brooke's staff also will be revealed in the privacy of the Grand Jury room.

A deep veil of secrecy surrounds the plans of Brooke and the crime board as well as the nature of the information they will submit to the grand jurors.

However, it is known that the Crime Commission has been investigating several different State agencies.

That can be reported because public officials, who have been called to the Crime Commission offices for questioning, have told of their visits.

It is anticipated that a number of indictments will be sought before the Grand Jury concludes its sitting next month.

MRS. ANN L. STRONG
Urban Renewal Expert Speaks Here Jan. 29th

Mrs. Ann Louise Strong, former legal consultant to the Urban Renewal Administration in Washington, will speak at the annual meeting of the Newton Conservators, Inc., on Wednesday, January 29, at 8 p.m., at the Newton Highlands Workshop on Columbus street.

Benjamin F. Shattuck, president, promises a brief business meeting. The public is invited to attend.

President Shattuck and a group of Newton city officials will entertain Mrs. Strong at dinner at the Brae Burn Country Club prior to the meeting.

Mrs. Strong has recently returned to Philadelphia where she is associate director of the Institute of Legal Research at the University of Pennsylvania Law School. She had been serving in Washington, D. C. as a legal consultant to the Urban Renewal Administration.

While there she prepared the pamphlet entitled "Preserving Urban Open Space—February 1963," which has caught the attention of the Conservators.

The pamphlet is designed to acquaint all interested people—particularly state and local government officials, members of planning commissions, and park boards, and members of civic groups concerned with open space—with the broad range of activity now taking place across the nation: the kinds of open space, the means for its preservation, and the federal assistance.

Doyle's claim to relationship was said to have been based on an investigation by a genealogical firm. His at-

City And School Budget Tops '63 By $1-Million

Newton's municipal and school budget for this year will be more than $1 million greater than in 1963.

This was learned by The Graphic as Mayor Donald L. Gibbs prepared for a series of conferences with city department heads to go over each individual budget.

Under the city charter the Mayor must submit his budget recommendations to the Board of Aldermen by Midnight on Feb. 14.

The school budget for this year will be $816,557 higher than a year ago.

That budget totalling $11,510,270 must remain unchanged since the Aldermen have no power to reduce it.

"Hot Potato" Meeting Set For Citizens

Action by the Board of Aldermen Monday night was taken for the stated purpose of divorcing the body from any connection with two general citizens' meetings, one "to consult upon the common good, particularly on the subject of the proposed new incinerator," and the other "particularly on the subject of the rezoning of Norumbega Park."

The former petition first appeared on the docket of June 25, 1962.

The meetings which, according to City Clerk Monte G. Basbas, had been requested by some 150 citizens, would have to be ordered, in the opinion of Matt B. Jones, city solicitor.

Wendell R. Bauckman, president of the Board, suggested that a date and time be set, that the place for the meetings be at some place other than the aldermanic chamber, and that the city clerk be appointed to act as temporary chairman, with the citizens at the meeting appointing their own chairman.

In addition, there is a good possibility that Mayor Gibbs will recommend a blanket 3½ per cent pay raise for all city employees except school personnel and department heads.

The wage hike the Mayor is weighing and probably will propose to the Board of Aldermen will cost the city a little over $230,000.

Added to the increased school expense, this would represent a jump of $1,046,000 in the municipal budget.

But the cost of providing a number of municipal services to the public also will be higher this year than in 1963.

The 1½ per cent rise in the cost of living presumably will be reflected in the overall expense of running the city government apart from the pay raises.

Newton's tax rate will be somewhat lower this year than in 1963 despite the jump of more than $1 million in the city and school budget.

But approximately two-thirds of the home-owners in the city will pay higher real estate tax bills this year than they did last year.

This seeming paradox results from a revaluation of the 23,000 parcels of residential property in the city.

Tax assessments have been increased on a majority of Newton homes.

With the higher valuations, that means the home-owners will be called upon to pay bigger tax bills even though the tax rate is reduced.

Notices will be sent out by the assessing department to all owners of residential properties before the end of this month informing them of the changes which have been made in the assessments on their homes.

About two-thirds will be told that the valuation placed on their homes in the past have been too low and that the assessments have been raised.

In a smaller number of cases the assessments will be unchanged or will be lowered.

In the overall picture the tax assessments on Newton homes have been increased $30 million.

That would produce about an additional $2 million in taxes if the tax rate remained the same as last year.

Toll Road Billboard Opposed By Officials

Opposition to a Donnelly Advertising Company petition for erection of a 60-foot billboard stop the building of the Auburndale Lumber Company at 11 Bennett street, Auburndale, was voted by the Board of Aldermen at the regular meeting on Monday night.

The proposed sign, whose advertising content has not been determined, would face the Massachusetts Turnpike.

Chairman Theodore D. Mann of the committee on Franchises and Licenses told the Board his committee had voted 7-0 for denial of the petition on the ground that the billboard would not be in keeping with the neighborhood's characteristics.

Mann explained that the State Public Works Department's Outdoor Advertising Division can give permission for the sign's erection regardless of the city's opposition, but that the city has the right of appeal from the division's decision.

The Board, in voting its opposition, requested Mayor Donald L. Gibbs to seek a public hearing on the proposal.

In other action Monday night, approval was given a request of the director of public works for an appropriation of $22,000 for purchase of a new bulldozer. Finance Chairman John P. Nixon explained that one of the two city now has is virtually beyond repair, and that the new one is needed for excavation of peat at the site of the new incinerator.

GOP Ward 2 Meeting Set For Monday

A meeting of the Ward Two Committee, Newton Republican City Committee, has been announced for Monday evening, Jan. 27, at 8 p.m. at the home of Representative and Mrs. John W. Whittemore, Otis street.

An unusual feature of the meeting is that it is open to anyone interested in an opportunity to meet and talk with their representative and committee members.

One of the main items of business on the agenda is action to increase the number of members serving on the Ward Committee.

Mrs. Gwendolyn P. Giles, chairman of the ward, will preside.

Hope For Young Asthma Victims

Word of a possible breakthrough in the treatment of asthma was brought to members of the Suburban Boston Chapter of the Children's Asthma Research Institute and Hospital at Denver, at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Jaffe of Chestnut Hill.

Mrs. Harry Finn of Newton, president of the Chapter, informed the group that, according to recent bulletins from Denver, scientists at the Institute have discovered in the saliva of asthma patients a protein that could lead to a major breakthrough in treatment of the disease. Dr. Constantine J. Falliers, medical director, said the discovery shows an apparent link between asthma and the protein, gamma 1A. Now researchers plan to watch how the amount of gamma 1A varies in degrees of asthma and how it changes when the patient is treated with conventional methods.

This Denver research institute is three years old and is believed the only such building in the world devoted entirely to asthma research.

The Suburban Boston Chapter is actively striving for new skills, new working members, and dedicated service to afford the eventual eradication of asthma.

Candidate

appointed a member of the program committee for high school Student Government Day and as a member of the recess commission to study the Department of Mental Health.

As a freshman legislator Cohen was successful in having several bills and resolves adopted.

One of his resolves petitioned repeal of 10 archaic criminal statutes.

Others provided for a study of the commitment, care and discharge of the mentally ill; a broadening of the State's observance of United Nations Day; and the creation of a Conciliation Division in the Norfolk and Worcester Probate Courts.

One of his resolves petitioned Congress for the establishment of a National Cemetery in New England.

Representative Cohen has been a vigorous advocate of constitutional reform. Last year he sponsored two proposed amendments to the Constitution, one of which would allow the Governor to reorganize or consolidate agencies within the executive department.

He also was instrumental in securing passage of a bill transferring 250 "forgotten" inmates of the Bridgewater State Hospital to State mental hospitals.

Cohen was graduated from Boston College and Boston College Law School.

He is a member of the Boston and Massachusetts Bar Associations and the Massachusetts Trial Lawyers' Association. He has been admitted to practice before both the State and Federal courts.

A member of the executive board of the Brookline Democratic Town Committee, he has been active in Democratic affairs for several years and was assistant sergeant-at-arms at the 1962 Democratic State Convention.

Cohen is a member of Temple Beth Zion and the Temple's Brotherhood. He is married to the former Barbara Lebowich of Newton. They have a 21-months-old son.

Anniversaries Of 20 Couples To Be Observed

Twenty couples will observe their wedding anniversaries en masse at Temple Reyim, Newton, Friday evening, January 31. The 20, all members of the Temple, will be honored by the entire congregation for their 429 years of wedded bliss.

Rabbi Philip Kieval, spiritual leader of Temple Reyim, will include a special prayer in the regular Sabbath service in consecration of the couples who are observing their anniversaries this month.

"Although the practice of honoring anniversary celebrants within a temple may be unique right now," said Rabbi Kieval, "we hope that eventually it will become a tradition. It is within the temple that Jewish couples are united in marriage. It is usually within the temple that the event is celebrated. Then why should the temple not extol the virtues of family stability through so practical and obvious a means as paying public tribute to those who have demonstrated family stability?"

Following the religious service, a special reception to the honored couples will be staged by the Temple Congregation in the social hall.

The mass anniversary celebrations will take place on a Sabbath evening once each month thereafter.

Bauckman advised the members not to attend, but said that he would be there as a spectator only.

The Board accepted his advice and set the date and time as Feb. 10 at 7:45 p.m., and the place as the Memorial Auditorium.

Reminders Sent To Christmas Seal Givers

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association has expressed gratitude to The Newton Graphic for its support of the 1963-64 Christmas Seal Campaign, and to the city's residents and industries who contributed so generously.

There were 22,692 appeals by mail made in Newton, the association points out, and reminds the people that there still are many persons who as yet have not acknowledged the letter.

Reminders of the fact have been sent out, but they are not intended as dunning letters, the association says.

Two Out Of 5 Pass
Marcia Elliot of 48 Rangeley Rd., West Newton, and Stella B. McAuliffe of 39 Ellis St., Newton Upper Falls, passed a civil service examination for bookkeeping machine operator in the Newton Addressing Department. Five women were examined for the position.

Miss Hilda G. Hope, executive director, explains that they are intended simply to remind friends of the association that they may have overlooked the mailing of donations.

She quoted from a letter written by one receiver of a reminder, who wrote, "Thank you so much for reminding me about my Christmas Seals. I had put the envelope on my desk and completely forgotten it until the cute little note came."

An Era Stands Accused

Crimes in which girls and women are the victims of brutal violence and murder appear in the news with frightening frequency of late.

Already, more than a dozen of these horrible events remain unsolved although the keenest police minds have been untiring in their pursuit of the perpetrators. These peculiarly vicious and uncontrolled inhuman acts are further evidence of the tempestuous times in which we live.

It would appear that a closer scrutiny of baby-sitting schedules on the part of teen-age girls is called for in many quarters. Often the lure of the monetary rewards for this employment dulls the sense of foreboding which should accompany any overtures on the part of complete strangers, seeking baby-sitters, however respectable their approach.

The away-from-home activities of young daughters also should be looked into by parents. There are many strange individuals wandering through our cities these days which calls for constant alertness on the part of their prospective victims.

Possibly the behavior of some girls and their attire could be examined as potential igniters of uncontrolled animal instincts on the part of those who hold a loose rein on their passions.

To a certain degree, the accusing finger of public condemnation for violence and murder, again moves towards some of the popular entertainment media of today. Certainly, there is more than enough of this parading of the baser instincts on view before our eyes.

The law of the jungle seems to be a prominent factor in our everyday existence. It seems amid the crowded masses of the cities and stalks the quiet suburban lanes.

We stand exposed in our brutality for the historian's pen to chronicle. Darkening the record of the great achievements, advances and humanitarian accomplishments of our era will be the horrible story of the hates, bigotries, violence and animal lust of those who dwell as jungle animals among their fellowman.

Thoughts On Smoking

The indictment of cigarette smoking has been released for all to hear and ponder.

Many of those who find pleasure in puffing the weed will make a genuine attempt to abstain from the questionable delights of the nicotine stick. Others, will light up a ciggie and give the matter serious thought.

Once upon a time, cigarettes were commonly referred to as "coffin nails" and were looked upon with disdain by rugged American males who smoked pipes or cigars. The cigarette smoker was commonly pictured as hollow-cheeked, skinny and about ready for the Great Beyond.

Clever advertising has practically restored the cigarette to the eminence of a health product. It is seen as being "fresh" as all outdoors, "sweet tasting" and "fragrant."

However, the testimony of those among us who fought the fascination of the cigarette and gave up the habit find things much fresher and more fragrant without the nicotine and coal-tar dilutions.

It appears that many humans can inhale the things all their lives and remain as healthy as horses. Then, on the other hand there are those not so fortunate.

However, there still remains the school of thought which affirms that if the Creator intended us to smoke He would have equipped us with a chimney. On second thought, that's about what the smoker makes of his nose and throat.

Thanks For Coverage

The Editor, Newton Graphic

Dear Sir:

We wish to express our warmest appreciation for the generous coverage your publication has given to the recent Annual Crusade of the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children.

Your interest has been of great value to the continued progress of this endeavor which depends in such large measure upon public understanding of the many and complex needs of our mentally retarded children.

A new era of opportunity, of community compassion and support, is unfolding for these afflicted children; and the enlightened and consistent policy of public service rendered by your newspaper has made a highly significant contribution to the new impetus of the mental retardation movement in Greater Boston.

Sincerely,

Elmer M. Binder, President and THE FORRESTER COMPANY Public Relations and Development Counsel.

Thanks Graphic

Editor Newton Graphic

We want to express our sincere appreciation for your suggestions and help in making our Christmas Shopping Tour for Underprivileged Children such a success.

The front-page newspaper coverage you gave this project was certainly instrumental in generating public support and in giving impetus to everyone's efforts. The result was a happier holiday season for a number of needy Newton children.

Again, many thanks for your help.

Roscoe A. Hayes Gets Dartmouth Alumni Honor

Roscoe A. Hayes of 37 Lansing road, West Newton, a director of the Newton YMCA and active in Red Cross and Community Chest affairs of Newton, was honored by Dartmouth College Alumni at the 100th annual dinner of the Boston Alumni Association in Boston last night (Wednesday).

He was presented with a replica of the Wentworth Bowl that was presented to Dartmouth's founder, Eleazar Wheelock, at the college's first commencement in 1771.

Mr. Hayes' citation read, in part:

"Following graduation from Dartmouth in 1919 you earned the Master of Commercial Science Degree at Tuck School and then started with the Boston brokerage firm of Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis of which you have been a partner since 1941.

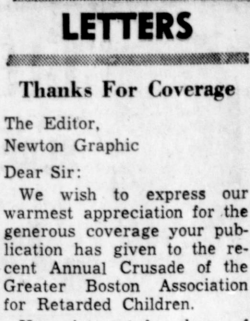

"Throughout your life you have given freely of your time and energy to service in community affairs in Newton and Boston and as a leader in your national business association.

"But it has been to Dartmouth affairs that you have given so generously of your talents in outside activity for many years as Alumni Fund Class Agent, a long-time officer of your class including the presidency of 1919, in addition to serving actively in the Boston Alumni Association, as chairman of the Admissions Interviewing Committee in Newton for 10 years, and a leader in the Dartmouth Capital Gifts and Medical School Campaigns. Your son, Randolph, is a member of the class of 1955. Your leadership was deeply appreciated in starting the present flourishing association of Dartmouth class chairmen and presidents a few years ago when you were its first president.

The Newton piano teachers are Mrs. Lotte Aron of 163 Upland road, Newtonville, Miss Florence I. Hamilton of 67 Underwood Avenue, West Newton, Mrs. George Hokanson of 124 Winchester Street, Newton Highlands, Mrs. David Karas of 42 Cynthia road, Newton Centre, Mrs. James J. Mooney of 484 California Street, Newtonville, and Mrs. Theodore A. White of 2 Harrington Street, Newtonville.

If and when the indictments are returned, they will effect what the Crime Commission has been doing for he past several months and how it has been spending the more than $500,000 granted it by Governor Peabody and the Legislature.

Any indictments which are handed down are almost certain to have political repercussions. How important they will be remains to be determined.

Whether the crime board will report to the Grand Jury on an investigation it has been making of a highly placed political leader on Beacon Hill is not known.

In this case, according to persons close to the politico, who holds elective office, he was employed for several years by a firm which does business with several State agencies.

No effort was made either by the company or the politician to conceal his employment.

Federal and State income taxes were deducted from his pay checks, and the salary he received from the firm was included in the income he reported on his tax returns.

When the Conflict-of-Interest law went into effect last spring, the prominent public figure severed his connection with the company and has not been employed by it since then.

That is the story as told by friends of the political leader. Crime board probes aren't saying whether they have a different version.

The public and politicians alike will be waiting to see what develops from the coming Grand Jury sitting.

Strong criticism has been directed at the Crime Commission by legislative leaders for its employment of Joe Snow, former chauffeur and confidante of ex-Governor Foster Furcolo, as an investigator.

Snow was fired by Furcolo after a row between the two. Snow subsequently levelled a barrage of criticism at Furcolo and wrote newspaper articles blasting the then Governor.

Many observers, including legislators, feel that Snow is so bitter against Furcolo that he could not be an objective and unbiased investigator. They also believe that the crime board should not hire persons with grudges to settle.

Whether the Crime Commission will get any more money to continue its investigations may well depend on what happens during the special Grand Jury session which starts next Monday.

Sen. Hennigan Favored To Get Atty. Gen. Nod

State Senator James W. Hennigan, Jr., looms now as a strong favorite to win the Democratic nomination for Attorney General.

Hennigan already has built up so much support that only a candidate of the stamp of former Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., would have a real chance of overtaking him.

Now completing his 10th year in the Senate and before that a member of the House of Representatives for two years, Hennigan is one of the most popular and respected legislators on Beacon Hill.

He would be a strong candidate if he gains the Democratic nomination for Attorney General.

Hennigan's prospects of winning the right to stand as the Democratic challenger against Attorney General Brooke would dim somewhat if McCormack decides to return to the political wars and seek the office he held for four years.

Reports have been circulated periodically concerning McCormack's political plans, but the latter thus far has given no definite indication of what he intends to do.

If McCormack runs, he would be a hard man for Hennigan or anyone else to defeat.

If McCormack remains at the private practice of law, Hennigan will have an excellent chance of receiving the endorsement of the Democratic State Convention in June.

They will have an opportunity to catch up with their youngsters on Wednesday evening, Jan. 29, at 8 o'clock.

The parents will then be divided into two groups, for panels on science and math. Mr. Beattie will outline trends and relate the city-

Cong. Burke Achieved Remarkable '63 Record

Hard-working Congressman James A. Burke achieved a remarkable record for devotion to his duties during the 1963 session of Congress.

He had a perfect attendance record as a member of the busy House Ways and Means Committee and was recorded on every measure voted on by that committee.

During the first 11 months of the year he had a flawless record of attendance on the floor of the national House.

In December he was excused for one week because of the illness of his wife, who underwent two major operations. In that week he missed four roll calls.

There were 256 roll calls in the House during 1963. Burke was recorded on 252 of them.

Congressman Burke, incidentally, has been advanced to 10th position on the important House Ways and Means Committee. That means he cannot be removed from the committee as long as he is a member of Congress.

A pretty formidable contender even though he will be starting later than Volpe or Graham.

Both Volpe and Perry will argue that they have demonstrated their ability to pull Democratic and Independent votes which any Republican state get in order to win a state-wide election.

Graham undoubtedly will pitch his campaign to the fact that he has been fighting the GOP battle day after day in the political trenches. His appeal will be directed at grass roots Republicans, and it will be a potent one.

The three-man struggle for the right to run as the GOP nominee for Governor may be enlivened by some public debates before it is concluded.

When Volpe announced his candidacy for Governor, he indicated that he wasn't interested in debating Graham but would like to debate Governor Peabody. That strategy is understandable since Volpe probably will assume the role of front-runner.

However, neither Perry nor Graham is likely to back away from any debate challenge. If they were to engage in a debate, it might prove awkward for Volpe to sidestep one.

As the three-way contest develops, there undoubtedly will be talk of a possible deadlock at the Republican State Convention. But it will not come from knowledgeable politicians.

A stalemate is impossible at a GOP conclave unless the rules are changed. Under the procedure followed at past Republican State Conventions, the low man on each ballot has been eliminated.

That has prevented any convention contest from going more than two ballots.

Volpe, Graham Perry Point For 3-Way Race

Ex-Governor John A. Volpe and Republican State Senate Leader Philip A. Graham are now squared away in a fight for the GOP nomination for Governor.

They will shortly be joined by a third adversary when a crusading ex-Representative Francis W. Perry moves into the contest.

This is likely to prove a much livelier battle than is usually waged for the endorsement of the Republican State Convention.

Graham, who has been campaigning up and down the State for months, talking to prospective delegates and seeking their support, will not go down without a terrific fight—if he goes down at all.

Political observers are waiting to see whether Graham opens fire on Volpe. Relations between the two were not cordial even when Volpe was Governor. They have not improved since then.

Volpe, who is extremely confident he will get the nomination, will endeavor to avoid any rows within the Republican party which might lessen GOP chances in November.

His strategy will be to run against Governor Peabody even while he is campaigning for the Republican nomination and to try to avoid any head-on clash with Graham or Perry. Whether he will be able to do so remains to be determined.

Perry will offer a third choice for those Republicans who may not want either Volpe or Graham. He could prove

Hennigan Enters Race For Attorney General

State Senator James W. Hennigan, Jr., this week officially announced his candidacy for Attorney General.

Hennigan, who has been a member of the State Legislature for the past 11 years, served one term in the House of Representatives and is now completing his fifth term in the State Senate.

His senatorial district includes West Roxbury and parts of Roslindale, Roxbury and Jamaica Plain.

A practicing attorney, Hennigan is a graduate of English High School, Babson Institute for Business, and the Suffolk Law School.

He is married, the father of six children and resides at 24 Bowditch road, Jamaica Plain.

Hennigan is a veteran of World War II. He served overseas with the Coast Guard.

His family has a long background of public service. His father was a State Representative and a State Senator from the same general district his son now serves.

"There is no question but that an aggressive and affirmative campaign will result in the defeat of the Republican Attorney General," Hennigan stated.

"I intend to wage this type of a campaign. I have compiled a public record in the Massachusetts Legislature which is devoted to the principles of the Democratic Party and to the welfare of the working man and woman," Senator Hennigan continued.

"By history and tradition the office of Attorney General has been regarded as the legal office for the people. It was never designed to be the vehicle for personal publicity. Hardly a day goes by that the Republican Attorney General does not issue a press release.

JAMES W. HENNIGAN, JR.

"By this continual torrent of press releases, one might well wonder whether Mr. Brooke is more interested in projecting his own personal image, than in being the people's attorney. With Hennigan as Attorney General the people will have an attorney to represent their interests and not a public relations firm," Hennigan concluded.

ing groups are the Mayflower Lodge No. 40 Knights of Pythias, Brotherhood of Temple Mishkan Tefila, The Countryside School PTA, and Oak Hill Chapter of Hadassah.

Arrangements for sponsoring groups were made by George Levy, business manager of the Newton Country Players. The Knights of Pythias will sponsor the performance of Feb. 14, with Dan Glickman, president of the Mayflower Lodge in charge.

Saturday's showing on the 15th will be sponsored by the Brotherhood of Temple Mishkan Tefila, with Dr. Milton Glickstein and Jack Sieve, the president, in charge. Sunday's performance will be given at 7:30 instead of 8:30 p. m. and will be co-sponsored by the Oak Hill Chapter of Hadassah and The Countryside School PTA, Stan Mervis, president. The Oak Hill Chapter of Hadassah arrangements were made by Florence Heartstone and Judy Alpert.

This particular production of "Guys and Dolls," directed by Harriet Wilson and produced by Herb Dobrian, promises to be one of the high points of the local little theatre season. All of the featured roles are being handled by veteran performers of the Boston Area.

Nathan Detroit, proprietor of the "world's oldest established permanent floating crap game," will be played by Jerry Gershman.

Miss Adelaide, the charming dancer from the local cafe Hot Box, and to whom Nathan Detroit has been engaged for fourteen years, will be done by Ruth Edinberg. Mrs. Edinberg has had leading roles in several of the recent Newton Players presentations, and appeared at the Newton Summer Playhouse this past season.

Daniel Kosow of Brookline is cast in the part of Sky Masterson, professional gambler and client of Nathan Detroit's famous "floating crap game." Kosow, appearing with the Country Players for the first time, holds a sizeable list of theatrical credits. The Salvation Army lass who falls in love with the gambler Sky Masterson, is Sara Brown, played by Sis Kramer of Newton. Miss Kramer has written and performed in several original plays with the Oak Hill Park Association. Also, Miss Kramer has been seen in "Separate Tables" with the Newton group.

Musical direction for the show is in charge of Alan Smith. Mr. Smith, a graduate of Harvard '49, has worked with the Ice Chips of the Boston Skating Club, Winton Players of Winchester, and the Original Maugus Club of Wellesley. He also teaches piano in his home town of Canton.

Also to be seen in the Newton performance of "Guys and Dolls" are Lila Goldstein as the Salvation Army General, Samson Altman as Arvide, Ira Gerler as Nicely-Nicely, George Levy as Brannigan the Cop, Erwin Glickman as Harry the Horse, Herb Leyton as Benny Southstreet, Buckey Rosenbaum as Big Jule, and Bob Jacobs as Rusty Charlie. The men's chorus includes Dan Lasovich, Dick Thorman, Harvey Silverman, Alex Barghout, and Milton Feder. The girls from the Hot Box chorus are Barbara Levy, Glenna Snyder, Rosalie Brown, Dona Thorman, Nancy Jacobs, and Jean Lobo.

Production and direction of the show are being handled respectively by Herb Dobrian and Harriet Wilson. Mrs. Wilson, a professional performer, has directed a number of shows for the Newton Players including "Damn Yankees," "Dial 'M' for Murder," and "Janis."

Mr. Dobrian is a charter member of the Newton Country Players and has been seen in many of this groups plays, the latest being "The Deadly Game."

Plans Are Underway To Form Friends Of Newton Honor Guard

Carleton P. Merrill, Newton's director of Veterans Services, announces plans for formation of a "Friends of Newton Veterans Honor Guard."

In making the announcement, he explained that the Newton Honor Guard was organized in 1954 by veterans and civic leaders in Newton. While the Honor Guard is made up of volunteers who are employees of the City of Newton the unit has no official connection with the city government and, therefore, cannot derive financial assistance from any of the existing departments that make up the city government.

The purchase of the original uniforms and supplies was made possible by generous contributions on the part of many of Newton's citizens. Since then no request for financial aid has been made to any group or individual and whatever cost that there has been for the cleaning and the repairing of the uniforms has been paid for by the members themselves.

Since its inception the Guard, at the request of deceased veterans dependants, has provided escorts for military funerals at churches and cemeteries without charge. Well over 70 such funerals have been attended by members of the Guard since 1954. The Honor Guard has also been requested to perform at installation of officers for various military, civic and fraternal organizations here in Newton and, here again, the services have been rendered without charge.

The Newton Veterans Honor Guard, since 1954, has always been the lead unit in the annual Newton Memorial Day parade as well as in the annual Memorial Day services and parade in Nonantum.

At the present time, the Honor Guard is in need of new uniforms and supplies. Ten years of wear has caused the original uniforms to become shabby as well as too small for several of the members. The members of the Guard wish to continue serving the unit as volunteers but due to the lack of funds the unit cannot afford to purchase same.

It is the hope of many that the citizens of Newton take pride in the fact that Newton is one of the few communities with a Veterans Honor Guard and that, as a result of this pride, that they will

Many Reserve Tables For Big Valentine Ball

A great many persons have already responded to last week's invitation to reserve tables in the West Newton Armory for the Valentine Ball, the big event of West-of-Boston society, scheduled for Feb. 14.

An electro-encephalograph, the modern wonder-machine which aids in the diagnosis of mental disorders, is the goal of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Junior Aid Association, which each year sponsors the Valentine Ball for the benefit of the hospital.

In previous years, proceeds from this red-carpeted affair have provided the hospital with a new call system, a jeep with a snowplow attachment, and a high speed instrument sterilization unit.

The Junior Aid Association members note that many before-the-ball dinner parties are being arranged. Mrs. Thomas Franks, who is handling reservations, emphasizes that requests for tables should be made as soon as possible, since they are assigned in the order of their engagement. Closing date for reservations is Tuesday, Feb. 4.

Among those planning to entertain before the ball are Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Stare, General and Mrs. James Gavin, Mr. and Mrs. James McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Muste, Mr. and Mrs. E. Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Carlson, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor.

Also Mr. and Mrs. David Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jones, Mr. and Mrs. James Schreiber, and Dr. and Mrs. William Brown.

Sponsors for the Valentine Ball include Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wiswall, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Borden, John Stokes, and Dr. and Mrs. David Kaufman.

Peace Corps Tests

For the benefit of those in the Newton area who would like to serve overseas, the Peace Corps has announced that the next placement test, required of all applicants, will be administered on Saturday, Feb. 8.

Others in the cast include Peggy Bailey, winner of last year's Auburndale Award for Best Actress, and James Gardner Loder, also an award winner for his outstanding performance in "Majority of One." Many other Auburndale favorites will appear in "Wake Up Darling," Frank O'Donnell, Pat Woodward, John and Sue Malloy and Alan Metcalf, to name a few.

The entire production is under the direction of Charles Ganss of Newton, whose professional skill is immediately apparent in this amusing play.

The auditorium seats 300, and it is suggested that advance reservations be made.

Newton's Hockey Team Now Tied For 2nd Spot

BY PETER RYAN

Newton High School's hockey team remains in a second place tie with Brookline in the GBI League as a result of a 1-1 deadlock the two teams played at the Boston Arena last Saturday.

The Tigers outplayed Brookline but failed to capitalize on scoring opportunities which would have produced a victory for them.

Newton kept the play at the Brookline end of the rink almost all of the first period but was unable to score. Brookline Goalie Jeff Cohen turned aside all the Newton scoring attempts in the period, but several times the Tiger skaters failed to pick up the puck in front of the net.

The Tigers took a 1-0 lead midway through the second period when Kevin Fleming passed neatly to Fran Hennessey who fired the puck over Goalie Kevin McLatchy's shoulder only 10 seconds before the buzzer.

Then Brookline pressed, and it paid off late in the period when Kevin Fleming passed neatly to Fran Hennessey who fired the puck over Goalie Kevin McLatchy's shoulder only 10 seconds before the buzzer.

The third period was evenly played although the Tigers continued to hold the territorial edge. Cohen frustrated all their attempts, ending up with 18 saves to 11 for McLatchy.

Arlington now leads Newton and Brookline by two points and will be hard to catch in the stretch run. On Saturday Newton faces fourth-place Waltham whom it defeated 3-1 in the season-opener.

The one point Dick Toomey picked up against Brookline gave him season's total of 17, one more than Arlington's Bob Carr.

Big League Bowling Center Opens Friday in West Roxbury

Candlepin bowling champions, Tony Baldinelli and Marcelle Aiken, will be on hand this Friday, Jan. 24, to open up West Roxbury's new, Big League Bowling Center, at 1834 Center street, near Corey street.

The official opening of the 36 candlepin lanes at 3 p.m. was announced today by the owner, Nicholas Abraham of West Roxbury, and will culminate over three years of planning and development.

Designed by the prize winning and noted architect, Albert Rugo, and builder Abraham, the house operates two floors and is equipped with Bowl-Mor Automatic candlepin setters, underground ball returns, desk-to-lane intercom units, air conditioning and circular heating, to mention only a few of the modern facilities this bowling center has to offer to both the professional bowler and to family enthusiasts.

"I have been bowling for over 25 years," said builder and developer Abraham, "and not only do I love the sport, but I think our Big Bowling League Center offers to the people of this area the finest equipment and facilities money can possibly buy, and now we're all set and ready to roll."

Champions Baldinelli and Aiken will put on an exhibit at 4:30 and at 8 on opening day and will also be available for free instruction.

A snack bar will be opened in the future, but Mr. Abraham was emphatic in announcing that no liquor will be served, just food.

Tests To Be Made To Detect Lazy Eyes In Pre-Schoolers

A project aimed at detecting eye disturbances in children 3 to 5 years with the view to preventing their becoming blind in one eye later on, is scheduled for the near future, it was announced by Dr. Henry W. Greenleaf, Newton's director of public health.

It will be conducted under U.S. sponsorship at the Brookline Health Department under the direction of Dr. Leon J. Taubenhause, a lecturer at Harvard and Brandeis Universities under a U.S. Public Health Service neurological and sensory disease project grant.

Among volunteers assisting in transporting children and administering tests will be Newton members of the National League of Jewish Women, led by Mrs. Ralph Rosenbaum of 34 Risley Rd., West Newton.

Dr. Greenleaf describes the project as having been designed to check screening tests for the detection of lazy eyes" among youngsters of pre-school age. It will try to evaluate the usefulness of four different visual acuity screening tests for defective disturbances of the eye that could lead to development of amblyopia exanopsia.

That condition results from the use of only one eye by the subject while the other eye loses its vision, and physicians report that the disease is one of the major causes of unilateral blindness and visual impairment in youngsters.

It is planned to screen some 5000 children, some with defects and others with normal vision, the latter used for purposes of comparison.

Interested agencies include the National Society for Prevention of Blindness, Massachusetts Division of the Blind, and the Metropolitan Boston Health Officers Association.

School Board Discusses Teen Smoking Effects

The Newton School Committee, meeting in a session Monday night that was postponed from the previous Monday, when a blizzard struck, gave approval to a request of the TV show "CBS Reports" to put on film a panel discussion by Newton South High School students on Jan. 29, in connection with a televised report on teen-age smoking.

That was one of two indirect references to the recent report on cigarette smoking and its effects by the department of the U. S. Surgeon General. The committee discussed the report at some length, and then directed the administration to determine if suitable educational materials on the effects of smoking are available.

During the discussion it was pointed out that the effect of alcohol and drugs is included in the study of physiology and hygiene.

The following appointments were given the committee's approval:

Dr. James D. Laurits as appointing authority for civil service for the School Committee.

Margaret E. Benson, Warren Junior High, home economics, effective March 2.

Mrs. Joanne Burroughs, division of personnel services, counseling psychologist, effective as of Jan. 14.

Ann L. Chapman, Newton South High, mathematics, effective Feb. 3.

Mrs. Deborah Harris, Weeks Junior High, mathematics, effective Feb. 3.

Mrs. Sheila Meredith, Memorial School, Grade I effective as of Jan. 2.

Mrs. Helen M. Thomas, Cabot School, Grade 6, substitute, effective as of Jan. 2.

Carol E. Trimby, Newton High, science, effective Jan. 30.

Irro Stephanou, part-time evening division, Newton Junior College, beginning second semester.

John H. Flynn, introduction to Education, Newton Junior College, second semester.

Richard M. Langley, electronics laboratory.

Marsh B. Ray, principles of sociology.

A leave of absence was granted Mrs. Kathryn G. Bowman from Newton High School, effective Feb. 1.

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Carol S. Maturo of Warren Junior High, effective Feb. 22, and from Mrs. Doris M. Carter, secretary of the division of instruction, effective as of last Dec. 20.

National Praise Given School System Of City

Attention of the School Committee was focused on the school system's constant effort for improvement at Monday night's meeting.

First, prior to the session, the members expressed great satisfaction over an article in the Jan. 24 issue of Time Magazine which cited the Newton system as one of the nation's "happiest exceptions" to the rule under which "most U. S. school systems are so busy corseting the population bulge that much of the reform in U. S. pedagogy is passing them by."

The article went on to state that "Newton never seems to be afraid of a new idea," and "there ought to be a lot of Newtons all over the United States."

Then, when the time arrived to turn to the "communications" section of the meeting's agenda, Chairman Haskell Freedman read a letter from a John J. O'Brien of Fairlee University who had taken note of Time's laudatory words, and expressed the opinion that the praise was well deserved and was a reflection on the excellence of the Newton School Committee.

At this date, that issue of Time is no longer obtainable on the news stands. So, for the benefit of Newtonites who missed it, what follows comprises the article's highlights:

"Newton, with a population of 95,600 and a tradition of academic excellence that goes back to 1848, when Horace Mann moved the nation's first normal school there, is probably the most creative school system in the U. S. today."

"What makes Newton different is its refusal to mistake physical growth for educational progress. The town is proud that it planned its schools so well that it has never had a single day of double sessions, prouder that as a pioneer in spotting potential

Urges Local Lawyer For District Bench

Democratic State Committeeman Robert W. Gallagher of Newton in a letter to Governor Peabody this week urged Peabody not to go outside Newton to fill any vacancy which may occur in the Newton District Court.

Gallagher said it would be "a reflection" on every Newton lawyer if Peabody were to appoint a resident from another city, town or county, "to a vacancy which is expected to occur in the near future as judge of the Newton District Court."

Home Owners May Get Help On '64 Taxes

Comptroller of Accounts Arthur A. Marr Jr., has reported a pair of windfalls that may serve to offset an increase in real estate taxes resulting from a reassessment affecting from 60 to 70 per cent of Newton's home owners.

He found that the city's surplus, which had been reduced to zero early last December, has grown to $1,260,000 by the time the year ended.

Listed also by the comptroller was a report that the city's share of the cost of the Middlesex Tuberculosis Hospital would drop to $16,450 from the $159,672 paid last year.

Contributing to this year's increased surplus was $797,000 in unexpended balances turned back by departments. The School Department, alone, turned back $290,000.

A part of the surplus is customarily used in computing the tax rate. The Board of Aldermen will set the exact amount to be used in the 1964 tax rate some time this coming spring.

Galvin of Newton.

Mrs. Koplow has launched her campaign for nomination and election in the senatorial district which includes Wards 1, 6 and 7 of Newton, all of Brookline and Ward 22, Brighton. The special election is scheduled for April 14, with the primary on March 24.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

Volpe's Debate Challenge Poses Problem For Peabody

Back in the 1962 campaign Endicott Peabody repeatedly challenged John A. Volpe to a series of public debates, and Volpe steadfastly refused to engage in a face-to-face confrontation with Peabody.

Volpe, of course, was Governor at the time and was favored to win reelection to a second term. Peabody was the underdog Democratic nominee with the odds against him.

Political analysts considered that Volpe's strategy was sound in declining to debate Peabody. It seemed that Peabody had everything to gain and Volpe everything to lose from the debates Peabody desired.

Now the situation has been completely changed. Volpe would like to debate Peabody, and Peabody believes that if Volpe wants to demonstrate his debating ability he should take on Senator Philip A. Graham, ex-Representative Francis W. Perry and anyone else battling him for the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

Peabody says that he'll consider the possibility of debating Volpe if and when Volpe achieves the right to stand as the Republican nominee for Governor.

Miss Olton will be the guest of a German family while in Lorrach for lectures and seminars with members of the Freiburg University faculty.

Mayor Will Recommend City Help Wage Raise

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs has definitely decided to recommend a 3½ per cent pay raise for approximately 1200 municipal employees, the Graphic learned today.

Department heads are being instructed by the Mayor to include funds in their 1964 budgets to cover the suggested wage hike.

All city workers except department heads and school personnel will get the salary increase under the Mayor's plan.

A separate proposal probably will be made by Mayor Gibbs for the department heads. Exactly what it will be has not yet been determined.

The general 3½ per cent raise would cost about $250,000, according to present estimates.

Meanwhile, the Mayor has begun to go over the budget recommendations submitted by his department heads and to prune down suggested expenditures.

He already has scrutinized the proposed budgets for several departments and in some areas has trimmed down the requests for funds.

In almost all cases, however, the budgets of the various city departments will be larger than last year.

Mayor Gibbs must submit his over-all budget to the Board of Aldermen by mid-night two weeks from tomorrow night (Feb. 14.) He will devote much of his time in the next fortnight to budget conferences with top municipal officials.

Meanwhile, the Mayor has called a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen for tonight (Thursday) in an effort to resolve a prolonged dispute with State Civil Service Director W. Henry Finnegan over the appointment of Dr. Henry M. Greenleaf as public health director.

Finnegan has maintained that the Board of Health is the controlling authority in the city's health department and that since Greenleaf comes under the board he is not a department head.

As a result, Finnegan has contended, the position of public health director is subject to civil service regulations.

Education Building Is Dedicated Here Sunday

Religious and civic leaders were present and participated when the First Baptist Church of Newton Centre dedicated its new quarter-million dollar Religious Education Building last Sunday, January 26, at 3 o'clock with special ceremonies.

Among the guest speakers were the Most Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie, auxiliary bishop of Boston and pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, and the Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Miller, Dean of the Harvard Divinity School, who gave the dedicatory address.

The modern three story building was named the John J. Fogg Education Building in honor of John J. Fogg of Newton, active in church affairs for nearly a half century. Mr. Fogg also spoke. He is retired and was formerly vice-president of the Federal Reserve Bank.

Others participating in the ceremonies were Mayor Donald L. Gibbs; the Rev. Thomas W. Tamblin, director of Christian Education for the 300-church Massachusetts Baptist Convention; and the Rev. William R. Stayton of Gloucester, recently associate pastor of the church. Mrs. Ronald W. Adams, chairman of the program committee, presided.

The church is 184 years old and has been a Newton Centre landmark at Beacon and Centre streets for many years.

Its new Religious Education Building

Building, the culmination of the dreams and work of many years and many people, will provide excellent facilities for kindergarten, primary, middle and junior classes. It will contain a new church parlor with handsome period furniture, and a comfortable pastor's study.

Muther Seeks Home Rule By Statute Route

Rep. Lorenz F. Muther Jr. Newton Republican, urged the legislative committee on Cities last week to report favorably on his bill that would enact by statute the same provisions on home rule that were adopted last year for constitutional amendment.

"The Legislature," he told the committee, "should carry out its declared policy on municipal home rule now, under its own steam, and without leaning on a later Legislature either to betray or freeze-in the new freedom and responsibility we claim to have offered the cities and towns."

"The cities and towns," Muther said, "would benefit at once and not have to wait

Newton Hockey Squad Set For Rindge Test

BY PETER RYAN

A strong team effort enabled Newton High's hockey squad to topple traditional rival Waltham 4-2 at the Arena Saturday. The Tigers scored twice in the second period, and then the teams traded a pair of goals in the finale.

Newton remains in a second place tie with Brookline, one game behind Arlington. Both of those teams narrowly escaped upsets Saturday. This week the Orange and Black faces Rindge which it defeated 4-2 earlier this season.

Captain Dick Valle started things off in the first minute of the second period of the Waltham game. Jeff MacLaughlin passed back to Valle at the point, and Valle led the puck past Waltham goalie George McPhee.

A minute later, Newton goalie Kevin McLatchy made a tremendous save when he blocked a point blank blast by Waltham star Al Cornier.

Jeff MacLaughlin's 12-footer gave Newton a 2-0 lead midway through the period, with assists going to the Toomey brothers, Dick and Bob. Early in the third frame Waltham narrowed the margin to 2-1.

The Tigers moved back into a two-goal lead when George Mechem scored on a backhand after being set up by Dick Toomey and Jeff MacLaughlin who played his finest game of the year.

Waltham kept its hopes alive with a freak goal when Dick Valle of Newton was in the penalty box. McLatchy, in striving to knock away a shot by Dave Cuisco of Waltham, deflected the puck into the net. However, Newton's Dave Mulare iced the decision a short time later by blasting home a 40-foot slap shot.

Dick Toomey now has 19 points on 9 goals and 10 assists. He is two points ahead of Arlington's Bob Carr in their battle for the league scoring title.

NHS Music Club

Scheduled to follow last week's successful student concert of the Newton High School Music Club, is an assembly on Thursday, Feb. 20, when members of Henry Lasker's theory classes will perform their own compositions for symphony orchestra, jazz band and madrigal singers.

STANLEY MILLER

Miller Enters Campaign For GOP Committee

Stanley Miller of 11 Llewellyn rd., West Newton, is seeking election to the Republican State Committee from the state senatorial district which takes in Wards 2, 3, 4, 5 and 8 of Newton as well as the towns of Needham, Dedham, Weston and Wellesley.

Sections of Newton in that senatorial district are Newtonville, Auburndale, Newton Upper and Lower Falls, Waban, Newton Highlands and Oak Hill. Miller reported that his candidate for the GOP State Committee has been endorsed by a number of prominent Republicans throughout the district. Active in civic affairs, he was general chairman of the recent Newton United Fund Campaign, which raised the largest total amount ever in donations. He also organized the greatest number of volunteer workers.

He has been a member of the board of directors of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross, a member of the Newton Planning Board, the Newton Park Commission, and a director in the Newton Community Council and Newton Civic Association.

As a member of the Newton Republican City Committee and its board of directors, Miller has been active in promoting the GOP cause in local, state and national fund-raising drive and has been a delegate from Newton to the GOP State conventions.

A graduate of Harvard College and the Harvard School of Business Administration, he is vice president and general manager of Stanmar, Inc.

"I believe we should get our voices heard at the highest GOP party levels," Miller declared, "and I suggest that this be accomplished through scheduled periodic meetings of our district's State Committee and Committeewoman with town and city chairmen and, in addition, joint meetings of our full city and town Republican committees."

"In this way we can do a better job and use our combined joint influence with effect at the State level. "After all," Miller asserted, "our district represents a large segment of the State Republican vote, and an even larger segment of party finances are controlled from our cities and towns."

Mr. Miller is married and the father of three children.

Police Benefit Ass'n Election

In a contest for four places on the Board of Directors of the Newton Police Benefit Association, there were 11 candidates, and the following were elected: Patrolman Raymond J. Sullivan, Lt. Albert Yanco, Sgt. Martin F. Greeley and Patrolman Edward Meredith.

The Newton president was honored for distinguished service to his synagogue and to the Jewish community.

Tuesday's Storm Cost City $15,000

Tuesday's storm cost the City of Newton about $15,000, it was estimated last night by Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt.

Approximately 70 city-owned plows and 20 hired units were used to keep the city's streets open to travel, working from 5:30 Tuesday night until 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

Snow-removal forces worked yesterday in clearing parking areas and streets in the vicinity of churches.

Noted Tailor Comes Here To Jacques' Shop

Jacques has appointed Leon Bilezikian as fitter and tailor in a move to bring the finest tailoring talents to the Newton Corner Men's Wear store.

Mr. Bilezikian joins Jacques from R. H. Stearns' branch store in Chestnut Hill. Prior to that he had been associated with the Crimson Men's Shop in Harvard Square, Cambridge.

Before coming to the United States in 1958, Mr. Bilezikian had acquired the superb talents of his men's wear artistry in his own custom tailoring shop near the Rue Lafayette. He catered to clients in this rug and jewelry center of Paris for some 30 years.

He had earlier been affiliated with custom tailors on Champs Elysees from the time of his graduation with diploma d'honneur from Ladeveze Academie Internationale de Coupe. He was also a member of the Master Tailors Syndicate of Paris.

A Frenchman of Armenian extraction, Mr. Bilezikian was born in Turkey, and attended St. Paul American College in Tarsus, which is the birthplace of St. Paul. He speaks five different languages.

Mr. Bilezikian now lives in Newtonville with his wife, Agnes, who is an accomplished dressmaker. They have two sons, Edward, who is a women's wear designer, and Gilbert, who is a doctor of theology, and a daughter, Monique, who is a French teacher in Newton High School.

at least another three years. And if they should think this bill is secretly a statutory gift horse, there is nothing to prevent them from continuing to ride the constitutional nag to home rule next year too.

"Moreover if, as can well happen, the next Legislature should send the constitutional home rule issue to the glue factory, the municipalities already would have a serviceable horse to ride."

The Newton legislator went on to point out that the Legislature as an institution would benefit by taking the statutory route because its capacity to amend the statute would be used.

"Over the long haul," he said, "a statute is more sensitive and reflective of changing times than the comparatively clumsy and rigid constitutional hammer."

"Most important, by enacting this bill," Rep. Muther concluded, "this Legislature would have carried out its own policy on this fundamental question in its own lifetime, a hallmark of legislative responsibility."

Praise

failures it has cut its dropout rate almost to zero. This concern wins rewards: since 1962, Newton has received more than $500,000 in foundation grants for refining new ways of teaching everything from nursing to geography to business history. When the Harvard Graduate School of Education tries out a new idea, from team teaching to teacher training, Newton is the school system it turns to first.

"Newton pays its school superintendent $22,000 a year, compared with the mayor's $15,000, and in Harvard-honed Charles E. Brown, 39, it has one of U.S. education's genuine whiz kids—a reformer who believes that schools themselves must launch curriculum ideas rather than wait for university brainstorms."

"Newton is no passive receiver of new courses through the mail. It creates its own, the work of teachers who plunge into ceaseless meetings and study groups as soon as the kids go home in the afternoon."

It was just such a study group as those referred to in the foregoing paragraph that occupied the major portion of Monday night's meeting.

Headed by Wilson C. Colvin, coordinator of junior high school education, it included three young teachers assigned to a writing and research project whose aim is improvement of the curriculum in elementary schools. The teachers are: Elizabeth Dunkman of Countryside School, Elaine Penaretos of Ward School and Mrs. Janet Forslund of Oak Hill School.

Chairman Freedman and the superintendent, Dr. Charles E. Brown, had invited the group to come in and enlighten the committee members on their progress in revising the social studies curriculum.

The study and research committee is an outgrowth of a report on curriculum revision needs, that has been some three years in the making.

Colvin explained at the outset that one of the major problems to be faced lay in the fact that the text book makers had taken over the curriculum. "The problem will not be solved," he said, "until the teachers recapture the curriculum."

He referred at some length to the manner in which text books generalize, and asserted that it is wrong to generalize on Latin America, and on the various countries of Asia and Africa and Europe. Youngsters, he maintained, from kindergarten to junior high school, must be given a clear understanding of a great many matters, dating from the stone age and the culture of ancient Egypt and Greece to the workings of modern manufacture here in Massachusetts and the workings of their city, state and federal government.

One by one, the three teachers described their research activity, some of it carried on at Cornell University and at Harvard, and much of it at such spots as the Children's Museum in Jamaica Plain and in a number of this state's industrial plants.

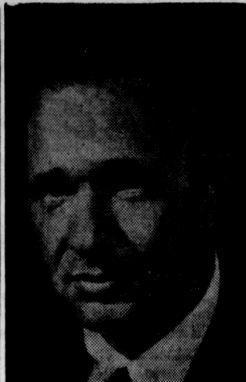

Other communications mentioned by Dr. Brown at the meeting were one from the Standard Oil Education Foundation, which had awarded the school system $10,000 to continue work on an economic project at Weeks Junior High School, and one from United Community Service.

The latter, he said, had

Officer Feeley To Give Hyde PTA Youth Talk

Charles E. Feeley, Newton police safety and juvenile officer, will be guest speaker at the Hyde School PTA meeting on Tuesday evening, Feb. 4, at 8 o'clock. His topic: "Our Youth — How Is It?"

A member of the force since 1942, Officer Feeley has long been interested in the safety and growth of the city's young people. He has conducted numerous safety clinics in schools, camps and clubs, and has spread the good word via PTA appearances, television and radio.

At a recent planning meeting of the Hyde PTA Executive Board, reports were heard from various committees.

It was announced that the cake sale held on Nov. 5 resulted in enough money to contribute $1.75 per child toward the cost of the 6th grade's trip to Camp Union. The board then voted to appropriate an additional $3.25 per child from the PTA funds to bring the total contribution to $5 per child. Plans to contribute funds to other class outings were also discussed.

The committee to investigate construction of a playroom for the Hyde School reported that the School Committee had approved the request for a playroom in March 1963. A future meeting with Mayor Gibbs was planned by the PTA committee for further discussion of the matter.

made a $6000 grant, bringing its total to the Newton schools to $130,000.

An Apple For Our Teachers

Well deserved commendation of Newton's public school system has once again been directed at this city, in this instance nationally, and published in Time Magazine.

It would appear that one of the vital aspects of the praise given us is the verification of the fact that the Newton school system "never seems to be afraid of a new idea." We agree with the sentiment expressed in the magazine that "there ought to be a lot of Newtons all over the United States."

The chill of new ideas in education seems to numb the mental processes of many school systems in our country today. "Follow the leader", regardless of the itinerary plotted by the leader, is a formidable obstacle in the forward march of education in too many communities.

Heap high the praise on our Newton school officials for courage, foresight and awareness of new horizons to be reached by our young people.

We are pointed to with pride by the Time article as possessing "probably the most creative school system in the United States today."

The current popular trend to mistake physical growth in school facilities for educational progress has no mutual acceptance here and this is lauded by Time. Also that double sessions have never been in force here because of mature planning of schools, and the practically zero rating of dropouts here all come in for editorial applause in the magazine article.

There is no reason to challenge the theory that "as Newton goes, so should the nation" as regards public school costs, physical plants, and educational progress. Newton has held and earned an enviable tradition in academic excellence since 1948. However, the distinction hasn't been achieved by accident or inheritance. Planning, courage, research and common sense have contributed heavily to the fine record maintained over the years, and enhanced with each passing semester.

National headaches in education find no duplication here. The Newton public school system has long been recognized nationally for its excellence and has been rewarded by foundation grants exceeding $500,000.

Personal acclaim was extended to Superintendent Charles E. Brown and the teaching staffs of our schools. The outstanding talents of these dedicated educators, men and women, in Newton have been recognized here for many years. It's so nice to see their accomplishments spotlighted nationally and given the accolade well deserved.

So, The Graphic today brings its own editorial apple to teacher. Maybe not as large as the one placed there by Time Magazine but definitely as polished, rosy and red—and very sweet with much local pride.

Seeking Answers To Problem

Juvenile delinquency, the popular phrase to describe our contemporary mixed-up kids, is rampant throughout our land and has its local problems in Newton as elsewhere.

The problem has landed in the lap of the President of the United States who has established the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime.

Paradoxically, at no time in the history of this nation have the kids had it so good, to echo a popular phrase.

Poverty and the broken home are not the roots of the national menace. Youth crime and delinquency flourish strongly in middle and high-bracket communities as in the slums, and with much less reason.

Police officials also point to the rapid dip in the ages of those committing crimes, many of them felonies. Some of these cannot be attributed to teenager because the criminals involved have not yet achieved that mature distinction.

At long last, an intelligent effort is about to be made nationally to determine whether the right programs to combat this major social problem have been carried out. Huge sums of money have been expended on these programs which have failed to realize their objectives.

It's serious and widespread and not improving. The solution may call for equally widespread measures. It will not be licked with glib phrases and mouldy philosophizing, nor by headline hungry politicians. Let's work for the right solution and apply it.

Teen-Age Drinkers

Editor
Newton Graphic
Dear Sir:
I was interested in your lead editorial in the Graphic of January 16, 1964. I think it is about time some public mention was made of teen-age drinking in the Newton area.

I have several teen-agers who, I suspect, have either indulged or been with others who do. Not knowing where the liquor is obtained or by whom (they will never tell) I feel as if I were up against a stone wall. I tell my children that they are breaking the law if they drink but I don't really know whether they are or not.

Perhaps through the Police Department you could learn and pass on to us where and how liquor is obtained, what laws and penalties are involved, and what parents can do to discourage such activity.

The newspapers (except in rare cases), the churches (ours, at least) and the Newton schools seem to be afraid to mention the problem hoping that it will somehow go away by itself. This silence seems to indicate to the youngster that his drinking can't be such a terrible thing after all. It's just that his parents are "square."

Thank you for doing what you can on this.

(Name Withheld)

On School Boycott

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

In regards to the proposed Feb. 11 School Boycott, I was shocked to hear the criticism of a prominent church spokesman that children were being "exploited" by attending Freedom Schools or remaining at home to protest segregation, inferior schools and housing.

Every religious and ethnic group in America has its own "Holidays" away from public schools, the enthusiasm for which is not particularly shared by the rest of the community. Yet they are not threatened with mass arrests or "contributing to the delinquency of a minor" as Negro leaders have been.

I still can't erase from my mind the picture of white mothers in Louisiana, their faces distorted with hatred, attacking, spitting and swearing at the Negro children who bravely tried to hold back the tears as they walked thru the howling mob to a "white" school. To blame the emotional disturbance of minority children on the June 26 "Stop" movement or comment carelessly about there being no inferior schools, only inferior children shows the complete and absolute lack of human compassion on the part of present white leaders.

Another fact seemingly overlooked is that these "exploited" Negro children will soon grow into adults designated by this society to an unemployment rate at least three times higher than that of education (or lack of it). Stemming from the rate of unemployment is economic inability to buy decent housing.

Packed into ghettos, the rate of tuberculosis and other disease is twice that of any other group in America. The life span of the Negro is proven shorter than that of his white brother but probably by that time he doesn't care. He is wishing he had protested when he was young and there was hope.

History Month Set By Mayor

February, the month that has the birth dates of the first and 16th presidents of the United States, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, will be observed in Newton as American History Month, under a proclamation issued by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs.

The mayor's proclamation, in part, reads as follows:

"WHEREAS, all organizations of whatever kind, and public, parochial and private schools, have been asked to emphasize the study of American History during this celebration month and

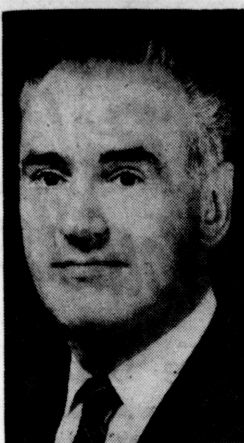

WHEREAS, the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, has sponsored American History Month in February since 1955.

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, Donald L. Gibbs, mayor of the City of Newton, do request that every effort be made within our city to stress the vitality and freedom we enjoy as citizens of the United States of America.

"Let us all contribute to the growth of our American heritage and develop finer citizens for future generations."

"WE'RE ON OUR LUNCH HOUR!"

Alan Gartner To Speak At Hub Meeting

The public affairs committee of the Ethical Society of Boston is sponsoring a lecture by Alan Gartner, Boston CORE director, entitled "What Negroes Expect of Boston" Friday, January 31, at 8 p.m. at the Boston Center for Adult Education, 5 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston. The public is invited to attend.

Mr. Gartner, in addition to heading the Boston Chapter of the Committee on Racial Equality, has been generally active in the nationwide freedom movement.

Dr. Morton K. Rubinstein of 139 Park Street, Newton, is chairman of the public affairs committee of the Boston Ethical Society and Reuben Rens of 306 Franklin Street, Newton, is president of the society.

The Ethical Society is a religious fellowship without creed or dogma, based on the belief that the greatest spiritual values are to be found in raising the quality of human relationships. Regular meetings are held on Sundays at 11 a.m. at 5 Commonwealth Ave., Boston.

Koplow

A housewife, mother and grandmother, Representative Koplow and her husband, Irving, a Boston merchant, reside at 84 Alberta road, Brookline. She has been active for years in Republican affairs, has served as Republican State Committee woman and was chairman of the women's division of the Volpe for Governor campaign.

Mrs. Koplow is completing a decade of service in the House of Representatives to which she was first elected in 1954. She has served as a member of the Republican advisory committee of the House, the Republican Committee to Study Job Opportunities in Massachusetts and as a consultant to the Metropolitan Planning Conference. She presently is serving on the legislative committee on pensions and old age assistance and on a recess commission studying election systems.

In the field of metropolitan planning, Representative Koplow has been a pioneer and ardent worker for seven years during the administrations of Governors Furolo, Volpe and Peabody. She has worked closely with the Boston College Seminar, League of Women Voters, Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, Regis College and other groups seeking the passage of this legislation.

Mrs. Koplow was chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Regis College Seminar on metropolitan planning and saw her work brought to fruition last year with the passage of her bill and the establishment of the State's Metropolitan Area Planning Council.

Governor Peabody appointed her to the Council which, in turn, elected her a member of its educational committee. The Council is now engaged in coordinating the planning work of Boston and 50 surrounding communities.

Representative Koplow has had a long interest and concern for the problems of the aged. Her published report, "The Cost of Administering Old Age Assistance in Massachusetts," was the first study of its kind in the State.

In seeking to help senior citizens, she has worked for more and better housing for the elderly, recreational facilities and medical care.

As a member of a subcommittee sent to Washington last summer by the Legislature, Mrs. Koplow conferred with congressional leaders and administrative heads of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to urge that the Medical Assistance to the Aged Program be made applicable to those in rest homes as well as nursing homes.

Mrs. Koplow has worked to correct some of the gross inequities in the state tax structure. She was the original sponsor of the "student tax deferral" bill which is now law. Now pending before the legislative committee on taxation is her bill to equalize tax deductions on earned and unearned income in certain categories.

She has led the fight for the passage of a meaningful Sabbatharian Amendment to the Common Day of Rest Law.

Other fields in which Representative Koplow has achieved recognition have been public health, in the matter of control of x-ray; in fighting against a double standard of medical practice; in consolidation of State TB hospitals; and in public safety.

Indian Peace Walkers To Speak Here Next Tuesday

Two young Indian peace walkers, E. P. Menon and Satish Kumar, who have walked from Delhi to Moscow and recently arrived in New York, will address a meeting on Tuesday, February 4, at the home of Mrs. Proctor Houghton, 152 Chestnut Street, West Newton. It will commence at 8:00 p.m. and is under the auspices of the Newton Community Peace Center, affiliated with Turn Toward Peace.

These dedicated people are equally opposed to the armament of the East and West and are urging unconditional disarmament now. Their message is that hunger and misery can be wiped out in this world only if and when disarmament is achieved.

People want bread, not bombs. Urgently, they argue that the enormous expense of help between nations to overcome hunger, poverty and ignorance.

Their 7,000 mile trip on foot without funds, putting up nightly at various peasant huts through Afghanistan, Pakistan, Russia, East Germany, Belgium, France, England and now the United States, is a fascinating one.

All along the route they talked with the heads of state whenever possible and to the man in the street wherever possible. They were received militarily and war preparations must be diverted for mutual at the Kremlin and were given a letter of congratulations by Khrushchev. De Gaulle had them locked up and was about to deport them back to India, but finally relented them and sent them on to England.

In the United States, Menon and Kumar plan to spend 10 days to 2 weeks in New York where they want to visit United Nations officials and the various peace organizations. After completing visits in Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, they will attempt to put their concerns for peace and disarmament before various officials including President Lyndon Johnson. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Mann

that the State is not fairly treating its cities and towns. He pledged that if elected to the House of Representatives he will endeavor to provide relief for the home-owners by voting against "wasteful practices in the State government."

"The Legislature continues to saddle home-owners with higher taxes with no regard for the ability of our cities and towns to financially support some programs, many of which local governments have never asked for and do not need," Mann asserted.

"At the same time," he continued, "this same legislature diverted tax revenues which should have relieved local tax burdens into programs calling for patronage workers."

"They added 649 new jobs and raised salaries from 10 per cent to 80 per cent in a single year, including raises to themselves in the face of a clear mandate of the voters to the contrary," Mann said.

"The home-owners no longer can afford to support patronage and sweetheart deals with their tax dollars," he stated.

Alderman Mann is 41 years old, is married and the father of three children who attend the Newton schools.

He is now serving his fourth term as an Alderman, is chairman of the Franchises and Licenses Committee, and also serves on the Urban Renewal, Public Buildings, Educational and Municipal Planning Committees.

Mann has participated in numerous community and charitable efforts. He has been both president and treasurer of the Massachusetts Cancer Detection Center, captain and area chairman of the Red Feather drive, president of a Kiwanis Club, president of Brotherhood Mishkan Tefila and has been a member of the Executive Council of the Insurance Brokers of Massachusetts.

A veteran of World War II with seven battle stars, Mann is a member of the American Legion, the Jewish War Veterans, the Masons, the Big Brother Association, the Oak Hill Park Association and the Oak Hill Improvement Association.

In last November's election, Mann, in his first campaign for a position as Alderman-at-Large, polled nearly 19,000 votes, the highest total ever received by a non-incumbent for that office in the city's history.

Lawyer

our district court judgeship is a reflection on the ability of every member of the Bar who lives in our city.

"It is appalling to think that you would ignore the capabilities and qualifications of the hundreds of attorneys who reside in the City of Newton."

"In the recent case of a vacancy in the District Court of your home city of Cambridge, you made the splendid appointment of Lawrence F. Feloney, a long-time resident of your city. I am sure if you were in my position, you would have used my objection to any applicant for the Cambridge judgeship who lived outside that city."

"I beg of you to please show the residents of my city the same consideration."

MEDICAL PROGRESS IN Massachusetts with the MARCH OF DIMES

ARTHRITIS

POLIO

In MASSACHUSETTS your contributions to the 1964 MARCH OF DIMES will fight crippling diseases on three major fronts:

ARTHRITIS

The MARCH OF DIMES Special Treatment Center for Juvenile Rheumatoid Arthritis at the ROBERT BRECK BRIGHAM HOSPITAL in Boston is supported by all Massachusetts Chapters.

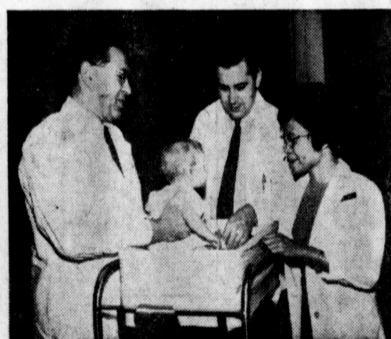

The grant from The National Foundation-March of Dimes makes possible the out-patient treatment of arthritis patients by providing part-time support for the clinic staff in addition to the necessary x-rays and laboratory work.

Referral to the March of Dimes Arthritis and Birth Defects Centers may be accomplished through the family doctor. Further information may be obtained at your local chapter of The National Foundation—March of Dimes.

BIRTH DEFECTS

The MARCH OF DIMES Birth Defects Center at the BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL emphasizes the total care of the infant with the defect and the impact on the child and its family.

Doctors, medical students and nurses are being trained in the early detection of birth defects. This information is also being communicated to local physicians.

POLIO

Hundreds of polio patients still need aid. They were stricken before the SALK and SABIN vaccines were developed with MARCH OF DIMES contributions.

These patients annually require corrective surgery, physical therapy, special shoes, braces or clinical treatment.

Research by the same health agency that was responsible for a reduction of 98% in the incidence of POLIO can, with your help, make breakthroughs in other crippling diseases.

Temple Emanuel Plans Ambitious Art Festival

Temple Emanuel of Newton announced this week that the synagogue will sponsor a five-day Art Festival in its community hall, April 4 through 8.

The most ambitious cultural program will have artists of national and international repute exhibiting works of sculpture, oil painting, water color, pen and ink, woodcuts, terra cotta, etc.

Gilbert H. Roehrig
 Services for Gilbert Haven Roehrig, 83, of 32 Fern street, Auburndale, prominent for more than 40 years in YMCA affairs, were held in St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Newton Lower Falls, on Monday, January 27.

Mr. Roehrig died January 23. A native of Minorsville, Penn., he attended Amherst College and began his long YMCA service soon after being graduated in 1903. Before taking up work in Boston in 1918, he had held secretarial posts with the "Y" in Lancaster, Penn., Trenton, N. J., and Medina, N. Y.

In Boston he was active in the work of the City-Wide Boys Work Council, and was secretary of the Hyde Park "Y" branch and of the Boston Outdoor Recreation branch. He was instrumental in founding YMCA camps at Monponset and in the north woods of New Hampshire.

Retiring in 1947, he remained active in various social and church agencies. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Helen (Burns) Roehrig; four sons, Albert K. of Andover, Jonathan R. of Sudbury, Caleb of Wayland and C. Burns Roehrig of Wellesley, and 14 grandchildren.

Mr. Sargent lost his life at the MTA Park St., Boston, station Monday night, Jan. 27. He walked into the last car of a train as it left the station and fell beneath it, according to an MTA spokesman.

Formerly an insurance representative for the Columbia Broadcasting System in New York, he was associated in Boston with Boit, Dalton & Church.

In World War I he was an Air Force pilot, and in World War II he served overseas with the Troop Carrier Command. Born in Westminster, he was graduated from the University of Maine in 1922.

Political Highlights

Peabody's position is a logical one. While Volpe is generally favored to win the GOP gubernatorial endorsement, he faces a stiff fight with Senator Graham and ex-Representative Perry.

From now until the Republican State Convention in June, Volpe will be running against Graham and Perry, not against Peabody.

But if Volpe does become the GOP nominee for Governor, Peabody probably will be obliged to accept Volpe's challenge to a debate even though Volpe might stand to benefit more than Peabody from such a meeting.

Peabody blasted Volpe effectively in their '62 fight for dodging a debate of the campaign issues.

When the election returns showed Peabody a surprise winner by a little more than 5000 votes, some political observers felt that Volpe's refusal to debate might have cost him enough votes to make the difference between victory and defeat.

Peabody presumably will weigh carefully the political advantages and disadvantages of engaging in a debate with Volpe if the ex-Governor emerges as his November opponent.

If Peabody declines to debate Volpe, he'll be placing himself in the same posture Volpe himself assumed in 1962—a position which Peabody himself criticized in speeches up and down the State.

On the other hand, Peabody could argue that he's following Volpe's own example in not debating. Whether that would be persuasive as far as the voters are concerned, is uncertain.

In a debate between Peabody and Volpe, Peabody as the sitting Governor presumably would be at least partly on the defensive, with Volpe mounting the attack.

But Peabody would have an opportunity to fire away at Volpe's regime and compare his administration with that of Volpe. This, of course, will be the clearest issue if Peabody and Volpe are the opponents for the right to serve as Governor in 1965 and 1966.

The guessing is that when next fall comes Peabody will decide to debate Volpe or whomever the Republican nominee may be rather than leave himself open to the GOP charge of backing away from a fight.

The late President John F. Kennedy made political debates fashionable when he booby-trapped Richard M. Nixon into a series of face-to-face meetings which were watched on TV by millions of viewers.

Up to the time of the Kennedy-Nixon debates most political experts believed that Nixon would defeat Kennedy whether he approved of New Hampshire's action in starting a Kerr-Mills program of its own.

That is known in the political trade as a loaded question. The Senator sidestepped it neatly. He said he was from Arizona and that the question concerned New Hampshire. Goldwater's aides breathed a sigh of relief at that response.

Seeks Curb on Smoking, Needs Cigarette Taxes

Governor Peabody is planning an all-out drive through the State Health Department to discourage cigarette smoking. But he apparently doesn't have much confidence that the campaign will be successful.

If it should cause any substantial percentage of cigarette smokers to give up the habit, Peabody would be in tax trouble of his own making.

While mapping his plans to try to curb cigarette smoking, Peabody is counting on a record high $45 million in State cigarette taxes to help balance his budget during the fiscal year which starts July 1.

That doesn't sound as if the Governor expects many people to stop smoking.

Fiscal experts, incidentally, estimate that Massachusetts cigarette smokers, while possibly hastening their own deaths, will also pay about $100 million in cigarette taxes during the next year, $45 million to the State and $55 million to the federal government.

Every time you buy a package of cigarettes you pay 14 cents in taxes, of which the State gets six cents and the federal government eight cents. That in itself is almost enough to make us stop smoking.

Statistics reveal, incidentally, that about 3 million people in Massachusetts smoke cigarettes and pay cigarette taxes but that only 1.3 million persons earn enough money to pay a State income tax.

If Governor Peabody's no-smoking campaign was so successful that all Bay State cigarette-users stopped smoking, his budget would be so far out of balance he probably would be forced to advocate the adoption of a sales tax.

New Campaign Started To Curb Voters' Power

Periodically, you hear the general managers of radio and television stations spouting five-minute editorials supposedly intended to promote the public good.

It's usually obvious that they're just reading a speech somebody else wrote for them and that they know little or nothing about the matter on which they're talking.

Not much harm is done because the radio listeners or TV viewers invariably tune in another station when the general managers go into their boring soliloquies.

But it was rather intriguing to hear the general manager of radio station WBZ tell his listeners that it would be a step toward reform if the politicians were given more power in deciding what candidates can run in State elections.

Whether he realized it or not, he was arguing that the right of the rank and file of voters to nominate Democratic and Republican candidates for U. S. Senator, Governor, Attorney General and other State Constitutional offices should be curbed.

What he said was that the convention system should be strengthened, that no candidate should be permitted to run in the primary unless he received the votes of at least 20 per cent of the convention delegates and that even then he should be obliged to submit 20,000 nomination signatures to get his name on the ballot if he did not win the convention nod.

As the WBZ spokesman put it in his editorial, this would prevent office-seekers from ducking a convention and would "make certain that splinter candidates have a real source of state-wide support behind them."

With rather curious logic, he argued that such a law would not be "any curb on democracy" and "wouldn't bar anyone from seeking public office."

It certainly would bar any candidate from seeking statewide office who couldn't win the support of 20 per cent of the delegates. It also would bar a candidate who received between 20 per cent and 49 per cent of the delegate votes but who didn't have a big political organization which could go out and get 20,000 good signatures. That, incidentally, would be a gigantic operation.

These endeavors to strengthen the convention system, if successful, would chip away at the power of the voters.

How it is a step toward reform to vest greater power in the delegates to a State Convention is a mystery to this observer.

The convention system of endorsing candidates was revived in Massachusetts with the explicit understanding that the voters would have a right to overrule the decision of a convention if they chose to do so.

That right should be protected, not curtailed.

Start Perry Boom Out In Berkshires

While ex-Representative Francis W. Perry hasn't officially announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor, a boom has been launched in his behalf by one of the top GOP leaders in Western Massachusetts.

In a letter to Republicans in his area, John W. Bartels of Dalton declared that Perry "has a record that can be sold to Independents and Democrats" and that "for this reason he can win."

Bartels pointed out that Perry carried the Democratic city of Pittsfield in the last State election while ex-Governor Volpe was losing it by over 1700 votes.

He also made a pretty good case to show that too much importance should not be attached to Perry's defeat for the Lieutenant Governorship in 1962.

2nd Vatican Council, Church Civil Rights Role, Are Discussion Topics

Father Charles Von Euw, professor of Philosophy at St. John's Seminary, Brighton, who participated in the sessions in Rome this month, gave a first-hand report of the "Ecumenical Dimensions of the Vatican Council's Second Session," at the mid-year meeting of Andover-Newton Alumni Association on the seminary's Newton Centre campus Tuesday, Jan. 28.

Dr. Harvey Cox, assistant professor of theology and culture at Andover-Newton, spoke on "The Church's Role in the Freedom Movement." Dr. Cox is also faculty advisor for the Blue Hill Protestant Center, an inter-city ministry which serves 600 persons each week. It was started in Roxbury two years ago by Andover-Newton students.

He declared that civil rights has been an area involving the church for more than a century—from the time of slavery through the Civil War, the reconstruction period and the passage of the "separate but equal" laws early in this century.

"To be the church of Jesus Christ means to be involved," Dr. Cox asserted. "This would be true even if the 1964 Supreme Court decision and subsequent decisions had gone the other way. The church's primary responsibility is its Christian duty. In this area of life, it happens that its Christian duty is the same as its American democratic conscience."

NUF Woman's Club To Observe Birthday

Mrs. Valeska Howell will present a fascinating program of creative art with ball-point paints at the 45th birthday party of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club in Emerson School's all-purpose room on Monday, Feb. 3, at 7:45 p.m.

Mrs. Ralph W. Hamilton, president, will conduct the business meeting. Mrs. Edward J. Sullivan is program chairman, and Mrs. George E. Murray hostess. Poursers will be Miss Grace E. Murphy and Mrs. Harold T. Sprague.

Both Catholic Fives Meet A Similar Fate

Our Lady's hoopers chalked up their third straight victory last week when they topped St. Mary's of Brookline 42 to 39, last Sunday. St. Clement's High snapped the winning streak by beating Our Lady's 81 to 66.

The Newton cagers now have a 6-4 record in Catholic Suburban League play.

Sacred Heart High went through a somewhat similar experience. Last Friday, the Newton Center basketball five went to Weymouth, and in a non-league game beat Sacred Heart of that town 54 to 53. But then, in a Catholic Suburban League contest played Sunday in Bishop MacKenzie Center, St. Thomas bested them 52 to 45.

St. Thomas broke a tie game in the third period and went on to hold a seven-point lead the rest of the way.

Harvard Five Highlands AA League Leader

The Harvard quintet, coached by Dan Schwartz, is undefeated in the first three weeks of competition in the basketball league sponsored by the Newton Highlands Athletic Association, and the 1963 champs lead the pack once again.

There is a three-way tie for second place, with Dartmouth, Princeton and Cornell deadlocked with two wins and one defeat each.

More than 100 boys in grades four through six take part in the league play. In addition to the six league teams, beginners are given instruction in the junior varsity competition between the Army and Navy teams.

Governor Names 3 Newtonites

Among recess commission appointments announced by Governor Endicott Peabody were the following three involving Newton residents:

Dr. E. Manning Sears, 86 Prince street, West Newton, as a member of a commission to study the water pollution laws, Mark Croker, 21 Thomson St., Newton, to a commission established to study the advisability of using all or part of the land and waters under MDC control at Quabbin Reservoir for recreational purposes, and Miss Catherine Atwood, 57 Kingswood road, Auburndale, to a commission to establish a board of Examiners of Bioanalytical Laboratories.

Tuesday Night Club To Hear Slide Lecture

An evening of "Steeple Chasing" with radio's well-known Don Sheehan is the program offered by the Tuesday Night Club of The Church of the Messiah, Commonwealth avenue and Auburn street in Auburndale, next Tuesday (Feb. 4) at 8 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

Don Sheehan's "Steeple Chasing" has nothing to do with horses but is a popular colored slide lecture revealing the beauty and history of places of worship from Quebec's Ste. Anne de Beaupre through Boston and neighboring cities to our nation's capital. This fascinating pictorial tour presents details of altars, windows, statues and architecture and Mr. Sheehan's commentary is underscored by the music of well-known choirs, organists and orchestras.

There is no admittance charge and everyone is welcome.

Selections from the Christian Science textbook will include these lines: "Human affection is not poured forth vainly, even though it meet no return. Love enriches the nature, enlarging, purifying, and elevating it." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 57).

Harvard Dean To Be United Church Guest

Dr. Samuel H. Miller, Dean of Harvard Divinity School, will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting and luncheon of the United Church Women of Newton tomorrow.

Mrs. Clarendon Southmayd, president of the United Church Women of Newton today announced plans for the annual meeting and luncheon to be held Friday, January 31, at 12:15 p.m. at the Church of the Redeemer, Chestnut Hill.

Following the luncheon there will be a brief annual meeting and election of new officers.

At 2:00 p.m. in the sanctuary of the church the address by Dr. Samuel H. Miller, Dean of Harvard Divinity School, will be titled, "The Church Ecumenical: Its Ministries."
